World news today

Toronto — Opposition leader John Diefenbaker called for a turn back criticism that might be dragging its feet on major issues.

Diefenbaker told a junior and board of trade dinner meeting here the present parliament can "take its place alongside any of the past."

He said the biggest challenge facing Canada's present sitting parliament were the formation of a strong sense of national purpose, promotion of greater economic expansion and the welding of a bond of cooperation between Federal, Provincial and Municipal Governments.

The opposition leader urged a substantial reduction in taxes in line with the American tax cut and called for more incentives to encourage Canadians to invest in their own country.

Regina, Sask. — Saskatchewan Premier Ross Thatcher yesterday announced plans to cut the Provincial sales tax as part of a program to slash personal taxes by $12 million in the next year.

He said the world would propose the cuts at the first session of the legislature this spring.

Included would be a reduction of one per cent from the Province's five per cent tax.

Little Britain
Mr. Douglas Scott of North Bay who was a former minister of the Little Britain Fellowship, visited this community.

He said the world would propose the cuts at the first session of the legislature this spring.

ROYAL WINNIPEG BALLET PRESENTS PEEERLESS SHOW

London was treated to a cultural night Tuesday when the Royal Winnipeg Ballet presented a peerless performance at the Academy Theatre.

The audience of over five hundred people was a pleasant surprise to the officials of the Academy Theatre Foundation. It was the first attempt to provide the people of London with a highly rated ballet company.

Patrons of the theatre were favoured by seeing the top ballet company in Canada. That the Winnipeg ballet is worthy of its "Royal" title was evidenced many months ago when the company presented a performance in the Royal Theatre in old London.

The group of thirty or more has toured the United States several times as well as Jamaica and parts of the continent.

Another pleasing aspect of the performance was that those present had the opportunity of listening to one of the finest orchestras in Canada. The orchestra consisted of two violins, a master fiddle, a cello, a clarinet, piccolo and piano under the capable hand of an outstanding conductor.

This fine orchestral group has been playing for many years and is made up of some of the finest musicians in the city. The orchestra was led by Mr. Joseph Hurlbut, who has been with the company for many years.

NEWS FROM THE LCVI

by "The Post" Collegiate reporter Richard Bruce

VIKINGS VICTORIOUS

As a result of the election on Friday, the complete Viking support the Drama Club. This was the first time that one slate has swept all four executive posts. They are all very worthy and able. The president is Shirley Simons. Vice-president is Shirley Simons. Secretary is Miss Patterson and Miss Golding and Miss Light. Treasurer is John Chataway. The boy prefects were congratulated to the whole also out in force for the first time. They were approximately 150 people at the dance. Thank you members of the BAA for sponsoring the dance. We hope you had a profit on the venture.

Both slates, the Vikings and the Undertakers, worked hard all last week. Many different ideas were used in the two campaigns but nothing was used against the other party. It was a good clean campaign and both parties should be congratulated on keeping it so.

Friday was the big day and it climaxed the campaigning. During the first period Friday morning there were two separate assemblies. The junior assembly was held in the main hall while the senior assembly was held in the cafeteria. Each slate had twenty minutes in which to tell the members of the BAA for the first time.

At the end of the first twenty minutes a bell rang and the two parties along with their staunch supporters, changed locations. Both parties presented a very fine demonstration and there was certainly not much difference between the two.

We seen have a very fine student's council again this year and we wish them all the luck in the world.

"FELLER REPELLER DAY"
On Thursday morning, as part of their campaign, the Undertakers declared the day a "Feller Repeller Day". This means that the girls were to try to avoid speaking with the boys. They were to ignore the boys completely and to some girls this presented a problem.

Before 9 a.m. each girl was given a "Feller Repeller" badge to pin on her clothing. Now the law was that if a boy could find the unsuspecting girl into speaking to him, she would automatically give him her "Feller Repeller" badge. As you can imagine, there were some hectic moments on Thursday.

The boy who collected the most badges was George Morrice. He was awarded the "winner's title" and deserved it. This was because during the day he collected 28 "Feller Repeller" badges with a green handkerchief as a prize.

Les Porter 1965 Kiwanis president
Les Porter is the newly elected President of the Kiwanis Club of Lindsay. Immediate past president is Harry Y. Johnson. The first vice president is Bud Bates, second vice president is Everett Scott, treasurer Les Eason, secretary Harry W. Petre. The directors are: Steve Bianco, Jim Brown, Orville Locke, Bill Capell, Don Blakely, Jim Hall and Murray Smith.
Reports concerning the success of the show "Good News" were submitted to the Kiwanis Club by President Harry Johnson, J. Baverstock and Don Blakely.
The advertising manager of the Drama Club, John Murphy, said that auditions are being held for acting this week. He said that the Drama Club is through the Agricultural and Trade to present three or four Conservation Committee to the complete plays early in the Kiwanis Grain Club, a yearly new year. Anyone is eligible grant to boys and girls of the for an audition but if you can't 4-11 club to foster interest in be used as an actor you may be growing of grain plots and fit in somewhere else, perhaps exhibiting grain at the Lindsay in make-up or as an aid to the Central Exhibition.

Members of the Undertakers party, Sandra Wehale and Gordon Wakelin, told the LCVI Students' Council elections.

Campaigners for the victorious Viking party were impressive during their appeal for support. Dressed in their barbaric garb, are (left to right) Rick Purdy, Bob Daniel and John Resner. These were not candidates in the LCVI elections but were campaigning for their candidates.

PROTECT DOGS

Before taking the family dog to the country or on a long trip, he should be immunized against rabies, which is still rampant in some parts of Canada. Rabies can affect any warm blooded animal, including humans and it is always fatal. Wild animals, especially the dog tribes, are susceptible to the disease.

Ontario game fish decrease Rotary members told

A decided decrease in the game fish in Ontario waters, as well as the decrease in the number of deer in the local area came in for consideration on Monday at the weekly meeting of the Rotary Club.

The guest speaker was Don Christie of the Game and Fish Department of the Lands and Forests in Lindsay. A decided effort is being made by the department in a programme of reclamation of Lake Huron in Lake Ontario by a war against the fish. The net is said to have been destructive in the killing of trout.

An effort is also being made to increase the number of salmon.

An intensive study is also being carried out in an effort to increase the number of deer in the area and it was stated that there are less deer in the northern part of the area and an increase in the number of deer in the district south of Lindsay.

The Department of Lands and Forests is endeavouring to increase the number of game fish and deer to accommodate the increase in the number of still sportsmen.

Brown-Harding Rites

Oakwood (PNS) — Baskets of red gladioli, white spider mums, ferns and candles were the back ground for a pretty autumn wedding in Oakwood United Church on Saturday, October 17, 1964 at 3 p.m. when Nancy Ann Harding, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Harding became the bride of William Douglas Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Brown, R.R. The organist was Mrs. Frank Gourd of Oakwood.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a floor length white silk velvet gown of the empire line. The semi-sheer neckline tapered to a low V back. The fitted bodice featured deep sleeves, embroidered with alencon lace. The slim dress featured a long panel train dropping from the shoulders.

Her dainty headpiece of pearls and pearls was in a wedding ring design holding a taper top length veil of tulle illusion. She carried a cascade of red roses and white gladioli and pom-pom mums.

The maid of honour was Miss Kay Irwin of Oakwood and the bridesmaids were Miss Dianne Jennitt of Oakwood and Miss Ann Brown of Woodville, sister of the groom, who wore identical gowns of red silk velvet, the fitted bodice featured three-quarter length sleeves. The dresses had a slim waist and panel flowing to the floor. Her headpiece consisted of red roses with shoulder length veil, white wrist length gloves and carried cascades of white pom-pom mums red and white carnations.

The ring bearer Master Cameron Jenkins, cousin of the bride, carried the ring on a heart shaped white silk velvet pillow edged with lace. The best man was Keith Brown, brother of the groom, and the ushers were Gerald Brown, brother of the groom of Woodville and William Porter cousin of the bride from Whitby, Ont.

For the reception in the United Church parlor, the bride's mother received in an Autumn gold dress with french lace bodice, and matching peau de soie skirt with lace applique and a panel at back, caught at the waist with a flat bow. She wore a gold velvet picture hat and gold accessories with a green cymbidium orchid corsage.

The groom's mother assisted in a black alencon lace over peacock blue peau de soie blouse and a panel at back, caught at the waist with a flat bow. She wore a gold velvet picture hat and gold accessories with a green cymbidium orchid corsage.

For a bridesmaid to the U.S.A. the bride wore a pale yellow silk suit with three quarter length matching cape, black accessories and a bronze cymbidium orchid corsage.

Philpott—Webster Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. George Philpott, Jr.

Baskets of white gladioli decorated St. Aloysius Church, Fenslon Falls, when Lela Virginia Webster younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Webster of Fenslon Falls, became the bride of George Price Philpott Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. George Philpott of Essex, on Saturday, September 19th, 1944.

Rev. C. R. Kay of Kilmont officiated at the double ring ceremony. Soloist Mr. Don Carter of Kitchener sang "The Lord's Prayer" previous to the ceremony and "These Whom God Hath Joined Together" during the signing of the register. Wedding music was played by Miss Ruth Shannon of Lindsay.

The bride given in marriage by her father was enchanting in a floor length gown of ivory silk tulle. The fashionable guipure neckline and elbow fluted sleeves offset the fitted bodice which had appliques of daisy and brilliant to complete the demure simplicity. The full ballskirt flowed into a charming cascade of petals, dropping into a chapel train. For a headress, the bride chose a water-lily rose encrusted with pearls and centered in a bouffant three tier veil of silk illusion. She carried a cascade of pink roses and stephanotis.

The matron of honour, Mrs. Boyce Blair of Normantville, sister of the bride and bridesmaid Miss Linda Philpott of Essex, sister of the groom and Miss Marylin Philpott of Fenslon Falls were identically gowned in dainty pink Satopans dresses with scoop necklines, cap sleeves and fitted bodices. The skirts fell into soft ruffled side and back fullness with flat front panel. They were matching shades in hats designed as rose with a nylon net veil. Cascades of white shasta mums were carried by the brides.

The best man was Grant Philpott of Essex, brother of the groom, and the usher was Richard Damphouse of Windsor, cousin of the groom and Max Webster, brother of the bride.

The reception following the ceremony was held at the Camer. The bride's mother received wearing a jacket dress of blue lace over satin and a blue hat. A corsage of pink-tipped white carnations and black accessories completed the outfit.

The mother of the groom was charmingly attired in a green lace shift over a satin sheath gown. A corsage of green tipped white carnations and black accessories completed the outfit.

Guests were present from Windsor, Detroit, Windsor, Essex, London, Kitchener, Hamilton, Toronto, Scarborough, Port Credit, Oakville, Normantville, Lindsay, Cresswell, Glenora, Kirkfield and Fenslon Falls.

On their honeymoon trip the young couple will take up residence in Meaford, where the groom is manager of the Stedman store and the bride has joined the staff of the Toronto Dominion Bank, having received her transfer from the Toronto branch.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Loring, Mr. R. M. Carter and attended and Miss Sharon White were the United Church Anniversary visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Lambeth.

By-laws prepare way for ballot questions

Three bylaws received three readings, and three supporting bylaws received two readings at last night's meeting of Town Council to prepare the way for putting three questions on the ballot Dec. 7th.

The three bylaws which received first, second and third readings were to appoint the day for taking the votes of the electors on the following questions, biennial elections, the bus franchise and subsidy, and the Sunday movie question.

First and second readings were given to bylaws to authorize Sunday movies, to authorize biennial elections, and to authorize agreement with Fred DeNure for bus service.

According to town clerk W. B. Bates the two readings of the authorization bylaws are necessary before the question can be put on the ballot.

Three readings were given to a bylaw to restrict parking on Lindsay Street North between Wellington and Colborne Sts., during the hours of 11:30 to 12:30 a.m. and 5:00 to 6:00 p.m. This bylaw would be of temporary nature since the widening of Lindsay Street North is already in the planning stage.

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Brown of three weeks vacation visiting friends and relatives in the Windsor Province.

Mr. Eli Dobbs and Joseph Bolton of Long Point visited with Mr. Nelson Van Glan of Litchfield.

Robert Nugent

Robert Amberson Nugent of 26 Cambridge street south, Lindsay, entered into retirement suddenly at the Tamlin Nursing Home on Tuesday, October 27th in his 83rd year.

Robert Nugent was the son of the late Samuel and Alice Nugent and was unmarried. He moved to Midland in 1904, later returning to Lindsay to operate a well known plumbing and heating business for many years. Back in the weekend when Queen Elizabeth was in Quebec City and riot police were busy, there was one French Canadian comedian unexpectedly by all the action—except as a businessman.

During the height of the police and demonstrator scuffles outside the Chateau Frontenac while the Queen was inside a state dinner, Henri-Paul Robitaille drove up in a truck. He parked just behind the "army lines," hopped out, strolled to the back of the truck and opened it. Out popped a serving counter and shelves full of cakes, coffee and hot dogs. Henri-Paul did a land office business with both police and demonstrators. Coffee sold for 15 cents, the cakes were 25 cents.

"Have a warm coffee," he said to orange-coated members of the riot squad and police action was forgotten for a few minutes while officers and separatists sipped.

Police and demonstrators swarmed over the truck in one brief encounter, but Henri-Paul quickly closed his truck and sat inside until the action was over.

He was open for business in a few minutes.

"I won't tell you how much I sold," he beamed at a reporter while putting mustard on a hot dog, "but it has been a good night."

With the easy flexibility of the French, he shrugged off most of the fighting around him.

"One guy bothered me, but I just showed him aside," said the heavyset father of ten.

As for separatists, "They don't interest him. He has a big family, is 34, is healthy and happy with a 'good job'—he said, ducking away from a demonstrator being pushed by

Evans—McLeish Rites

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Evans

Bouquets of mauve chrysanthemums, white gladioli and ferns were the setting for the wedding of Miss Irene May McLeish, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Howard McLeish of Lindsay to Gordon Thomas Evans, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hermann Evans of Lindsay in the Cambridge Street United Church, on Sunday, Oct. 10, 1964 at 3 p.m.

The ceremony was solemnized by Rev. R. K. McLean and Barbara McGahey was the soloist singing "The Wedding Procession" and "O Perfect Love" accompanied by Larry Lloyd of Lindsay.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a gown of guipure brocade, imported from France. The fitted bodice had a rounded neckline and long lily pointed sleeves. The dress featured a long train held to the shoulders by a bow with a rose centre. Her veil of elbow length French silk blouses was caught to a wedding ring made from a bow with a rose centre. The maid of honour was Myrtle Lynn Mark of Peterborough. The bridesmaids were Sandra Reynolds, Joan Burr both of Lindsay and Mildred Davis of Ontario. The Junior bridesmaid was Nancy McLeish of Lindsay. The attendants were historically given in flower length mauve pea de sole with rounded necklines, three-quarter length sleeves and bell shaped skirts. The back of the dresses were caught to the shoulder in a floor length panel by a bow. They carried cascades of yellow fig mum bouquets with white mums and yellow ribbons. Their headresses were of matching mauve hairs with a rose in the center of the hair. The bridesmaids wore white veils. The flower girl was Sandra Orlow of Scarborough who wore a floor length white pea de sole dress with a mauve sash. She had a ring of white mums in her hair and carried a basket of yellow and white chrysanthemums.

The best man was Wayne Evans of Lindsay and the ushers were Arnold McLeish of Centralia, Terry Evans and Patrick O'Neill both of Lindsay and Gordon McLeish of Ontario.

For the reception in Cambridge Hall the bride's mother received in a powder blue lace overalls dress with a powder blue hat with a white feather, matching accessories and a corsage of pink Sweetheart roses. REPORT FROM OTTAWA

by Russell C. Honey, M.P. — Durham

An important new chapter in the history of our country was written last week when representatives of the federal and provincial governments unanimously agreed on a formula to repatriate the constitution of Canada. After this formula becomes law, any future amendment of the constitution will be made in Canada instead of requiring the assent of the British Parliament. As a result, our constitution will have become, for the first time in the history of this country, truly and wholly Canadian.

As Canadians, many of us have long felt their humiliated over the fact that every time we wanted to amend our own constitution, we had to go to the British Parliament to obtain the necessary authorization. This has been a matter of great concern to federal and provincial authorities alike for the past 30 years and at last last the continuing efforts to find an acceptable solution to the problem have paid off.

This, I think, another indication that we are making considerable headway in giving ourselves a strong Canadian identity with national spirit and a national pride which will sustain and strengthen it. The formula for constitutional amendment provides that, as a general rule, proposals for changes in the constitution become law if they are passed by Parliament with the concurrence of at least two-thirds of the province having at least 50% of the population of Canada. In making this decision only a limited number of provinces, the two-thirds rule is replaced by the concurrence of only those provinces affected. Some fundamental provisions of the constitution, such as those relating to the division of legislative powers between federal and provincial authorities and the use of both English and French languages, can be changed only by the federal Parliament and all the provinces acting together.

The actual changes that will be made to the constitution will be debated at future meetings which could easily last for weeks or months. These meetings, which is a distinct feeling here that all those concerned will go into these meetings with a positive attitude, sincere willingness to work towards the strengthening of our Confederation.

The day after the conference ended in Ottawa, the P.C. minister made a statement indicating that we should all keep in mind when we think of our relationship to Canadians from other parts of Canada.

"Nothing can prevent" the world's great nations except 1. International chaos and the ultimate catastrophe of nuclear war. 2. Our own failure to meet the tests and exploits the opportunities that face us the best of unity and the opportunity of national growth. This is entirely our own, and no one else's responsibility."

Ottawa, Cameron and Woodville.

Prior to her marriage the bride was honoured at three miscellaneous showers.

The brides dress, bridesmaids dresses, junior brides dresses and flower girls dresses were all designed and made by the bride prior to her wedding.

One hundred and thirty-two years ago Methodism was born in Lindsay when a small group of devout people met in a small frame dwelling knelt in prayer and heard the gospel proclaimed.

On Sunday, October 25th anniversary services were held in Cambridge Street United Church, a long cry back through the years to the time when the first Methodist church was erected at the cor-

Methodists left the pine frame church and entered a new and large white brick church at the corner of Cambridge and Bond Streets. As the years passed the church was enlarged and the gallery added.

The first pipe organ, which was pumped by hand, was in time removed in favour of the present magnificent Flavell memorial organ and Methodism at this period forsook the name and became the United Church of Canada. Many fine ministers graced the pulpit including: C. Manning, Dr. Shorey, A. H. Going, W. H. Barraclough, E. Val Tilton, Dr. Hoiling, Dr. McIntosh, J. J. Black and H. B. Neal. Today the incumbent is R. K. Mc-

Many brilliant and very capable organists and choirmasters looked after the ministry of praise including: J. Parnell

STOP!... killing yourself

By Peter J. Steincrohn, MD, F.A.C.P.

FEELING BETTER NOW
HEDGES ON OPERATION
A knife is a knife. Whether rusty blade or sterilized, with many a bacterium crouching on its cutting edge, not one of us looks forward to having our skin violated by an unnecessary operation. To put it plainly, neither you or I want to be cut. We don't want an operation unless we can help it. There, you will understand, I want to put off this type of operation, the following letter:

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: A year ago I had X-rays which showed gallstones. I had six to eight attacks of colic until then, so the X-ray results were not in suspense. Mrs. H. I'll omit right out with it. I believe you would be doing myself and my family a favor by following your doctor's advice and submitting to surgery. Let me tell you why.

It's a pretty good bet that anyone who has had as many attacks as you have had (and whose X-rays still show many stones) is more than likely to have one or more attacks in the future. The trick is to have the operation when you and your doctor say it isn't necessary to have the operation. Perhaps a real painful attack would hurry my decision. What's I'd like to know is this: Dr. Steincrohn, if my medicine and diet controls the gall bladder, what, in my doctor's opinion, is the danger of putting off operation? I have faith in my doctor, but he is not a surgeon. I'm sure it is human nature to want to put off this type of operation. If it helps any, I am 35 and have a house full of youngsters who need attention. If you find time to handle this in your column, I would truly appreciate it—Mrs. H.

The president Mrs. McArthur welcomed the guests and called the meeting to order. After the usual opening and reports by the officers the roll call of prizes for card parties was read. Plans were made for a party Nov. 13 at the Orange Hall with members of faring lunch. A quilt is being offered at the next meeting and the project for the year is to have the benches repaired and placed in the village for the summer months. SELF-EXAMINATION OFT PLASTIC SURGERY LEADS TO THAT OUNCE OF PRESERVATION

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: I've looked old with an old skin for too many years. I am depressed by it as I'm only 39. I am considering the new method of face-lift without surgery. Is the "pharm" method of skin peeling? What do you think—Mrs. X.

Comment: Go slow. Don't even consider it unless you have consulted a qualified dermatologist or plastic surgeon. Improperly used, the method has caused serious scarring and skin deformity. By all means keep away from quacks who make all sorts of promises.

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: I am 17 and have had bad posture for about six years. Although I have been repeatedly told to straighten up, and have exercised every night for years, my posture is bad. Do you recommend a back doctor?—Miss A.

Comment: Yes. See an orthopedist. I wish you had waited one year ago. But even now, special braces and support may help.

By Peter J. Steincrohn, M.D., F.A.C.P.

I have written a few columns recently in which I stressed my belief that Mother Nature doesn't resent surgery. I am convinced that plastic surgery by competent surgeons will improve their appearance and make them happy. For example:

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: I read your column today as I do for quite a while. I am 16 years of age and am interested in today's subject particularly: plastic surgery. I mean, I can't say what my nose, I could think of something but when I see her doing this under the age-old adage of being satisfied with what you are given to you.

I am physically attractive, and I can and have been living with this nose of mine. However, I go along with my beliefs. If I have to borrow the money, I'm going to a recognized plastic surgeon and have it done. With the knowledge of my family (whatever they (say) and without the knowledge of my new friends. With me luck—Miss M.

Comment: Let's make it formal. I do. I do. I hope it will be a great success.

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: We have a 15½-year-old daughter who is a lovely young lady. She is attractive and well mannered. However, she is not as popular as I'm sure she'd like to be. There are times when she isn't invited out on dates for quite a while. She seems to be reserved and lacking in self-confidence.

My problem is this. For some time I have noticed that she has nervous little habits, none, I can't say what they are, but when I see her doing this under the age-old adage of being satisfied with what you are given to you.

Comment: What's perhaps most important is to follow this precept: admonition. "Let off." Try being less bothered, and perhaps she will be. Give it a three month's trial and you may not need to seek medical advice. Give the tests

EDITORIAL

What Lies Ahead?

What lies behind the great flag debate seems to be something more than the choice of a new standard for Canada. Both Prime Minister Pearson and Opposition Leader Diefenbaker have intransigent attitudes to the problem.

Some observers in Ottawa feel more is threatened than the loss of a flag. They feel this is the first step to a break-away from the Canadian tradition of monarchy and the declaration of Canada as a republic.

There is little hope for a negotiated settlement on this matter. Within the Tory ranks there is strong opposition to a hot ditch fight on the flag from the Quebec Tories.

With the damage already created by this volatile subject and the refusal of the government to bring the matter to the voters in the form of a plebiscite, we feel that Mr. Diefenbaker is justified in prolonging the matter even to an election, for only through an election can the issue of the flag and the hidden issues behind it, including the federal-provincial problems and the question of Quebec be brought to a head.

If a flag is forced through, the resentment will simmer for years, inevitably to break out again and again in the future.

Although no one wants an election it seems as though we will be forced into one by spring, and this may turn out to be the best solution.

Found shot in wagon
William Humphrey, born in 1841 years of age, was found shot to death in a wagon on his farm yesterday afternoon at three o'clock. The deceased, who was his widow's mother, lived on the boundary of Emily and Verulam Townships, is said to have been in ill health for the past year or more.

He was found fatally wounded in the side by his sister, Irene and two children, Claude and Elsie Kimball who were visiting at the farm. The children were looking for the deceased to say goodbye to him before they left for their home when they called the gruesome discovery.

A coroner was called but it is not believed an inquest will be held.

He is survived by his mother, three brothers, Abraham, Leslie, and Ernest, all of Verulam Township, and his sister Irene.

Arnsenal Clerk dies
George Duguid, for many years a resident of Penelon Falls, now a resident of Lindsay, died suddenly at his home, 20 Cambridge Street North, Saturday night. His death came as a terrible shock to his family since he appeared to be in good health during the day and even attended the rugby game at the LCI campus during the afternoon. Mr. Duguid had been employed as a clerk at the Dominion Arnsenal plant here.

A veteran of the Great War, Mr. Duguid had been associated with the Canadian Legion and was a member of the "ouch. Although a resident of the only a short while, he had been well known. His funeral, which will be in Penelon Falls, The Post was informed by friends that Mr. Duguid collapsed just as he prepared to attend the status in his home on Saturday night.

Taken action against Militia
Richard Jones a C.P.R. section man at Newwood, who had his eye hurt, on the morning of June 25, as the result of being struck by a discharge from a blank cartridge fired at close range by one of a battalion of soldiers returning to Lindsay from Petawaka camp, has entered a claim against the Department of Militia and Defence for $3,000 damages in compensation for injuries received. It will be remembered that Jones, in company with E. Kelly, a fellow sectionman, was working on the track some miles east of here when the train of soldiers passed. Jones and Kelly stepped to one side of the track and while there, Jones was fired at by what was supposed to be blank cartridges, by some of the occupants of the coaches. Jones received a charge in the eye, which mutilated him for the time. He was brought to Newwood and attended by Dr. N. P. Sutton. He claims to have suffered severely from nervous shock and has been incapacitated from following his usual occupation for over three months and is still suffering from general impairment of health.

The claimant is a married man and the father of a family of four young girls.

Man injured in fight at fair grounds.
A nasty row took place at the fair grounds this morning shortly after 11 a.m. in which Charles Stone mutilated a serious injury to his head from a crowbar alleged to have been used on him by Noble Robinson, the 15-year-old son of Alford Robinson, Colborne Street.

WHERE DO LOST CUSTOMERS GO?

Many a dealer knows that despite his best efforts to render service to his customer, certain percentages of his sales are lost to competitors. The reason for this is not always the fault of the dealer, but often the result of a combination of circumstances which are beyond his control.

The first reason for this is the lack of a complete inventory of the dealer's stock. If a dealer does not know what he has in stock, he cannot sell it.

Well the United States Election before the final results are known. There have been upsets in Elections in the past and if the Republicans had received the majority of the votes cast, the economy of the country, as at present in Canada, is in high gear and there didn't seem to be any corruption problems that the Republicans could level at the Democrats. So now that all the shouting and bally ho is over and people have cast their ballots we hope will be another season of general prosperity.

And no doubt Mr. Johnson will be sending a letter of his thanks and appreciation to our Canadian Daily Paper for their support during the whole campaign. I was always of the opinion that the function this would be a mistake for a newspaper in one country to publish the news of another foreign country and campaign. Besides it would leave the issue of electing a president to the people of the country concerned. Instead of that Toronto Daily paper had page after page of its paper carrying Editorial after Editorial extolling the virtue of Mr. Johnson and his followers and condemning the worst coming of Mr. Goldwater and his followers. This in my mind was a rather dangerous tactic for the press of Canada to pursue. While it was generally assumed in the United States that children, many from out of town, canvassed the homes seeking the traditional hand never forget that as in Canada, Mayor's chair. This I think is first venture and their parents the use of the secret ballot and in the ballots have to be counted Provincial Legislature or some Fifty-six years ago the Santa Claus Stocking Fund was launched by the late Allan Gilles. Since that time many thousands of dollars have been dropped into the stocking and the gives have been people who declined to the idea of helping the more who through unfortunate circumstances have been unable to make ends meet. For a long period of time the "Kiwans Club sponsored the drive for funds and members not only packed baskets but also made deliveries to the needy families. Gradually the task of appealing to the people of Lindsay for funds to help the needy and particularly needy children, fell into the very capable hands of T. H. Simson, Q. C. and for a considerable length of time he was the sole collector for the Stocking Fund. He handled publicly, penned many letters to personal friends and to various organizations and also headed the list of subscriptions. His was a marvellous example. Allina Blewett also filled a very important role, especially in the department of investigation and distribution. The Santa Claus Stocking Fund is now an institution in Lindsay and appeal for support for the welfare of the fund this Christmas coming, is about to be launched.

Minister departing announced at 114th anniversary service

Oakwood (PNS) — The 114th anniversary of the Oakwood Congregation of the United Church was observed on Sunday last with a good attendance at both morning and evening services. The guest preacher for the day was Rev. Kenneth C. Purdon, B.A., associate minister of Cambridge United Church, Lindsay, Ont.

The evening service was in formal, commencing with singing song of familiar hymns. Rev. Purdon brought a very interesting message to the congregation, relating his 36 years experience with the Mohawk Indians on the Caughnawaga and Oka reserves in the Province of Quebec. Musical numbers by the Senior and Junior choir added to both services.

DOESN'T FEEL GOOD!

Oklahoma City (UPI) — ASKED how he felt about the election results, Oklahoma Republican Chairman William Burkett replied: "Not too good. But did any other feel the number of that truck!"

Canada's Map Makers Meet Big Demand One Million Maps and Charts a Month

A nation with 4,000,000 square miles, the longest coastline in the world, surging economic expansion and ever-growing developments of rich natural resources, has a vital requirement—millions of maps. Topographical and geological maps, nautical and aeronautical charts, special sheets for electrical districts and arctic expeditions, realistic relief maps for low-flying jet planes, world maps and latitude maps for electronic navigation are just some of the million copies of maps a month that speed off the government's map presses in Ottawa.

Part of the huge storage room where 12,000,000 copies of thousands of different maps are stored. Two million maps are kept on shelves to meet daily requests.

E. D. Baldock, centre, chief of map compilation and reproduction division holds production meeting.

Plastic map sheet is positioned for photographing. Public may be placed on new-map notification list if desired.

Lindsay players criticized for 'putting education first'

Under the heading "Nats or practice," "The only time we fall for 'pitch,' loss Lindsay 'catch,' sports writer Ernie Miller of the London Free Press accuses Lindsay hockey players Bill Horton and George Babcock of "throwing a curve" when they both returned to Lindsay last week the article appearing in the London Free Press Nov. 3rd issue states in part: quote -

"Landon Nationals believe they made a pretty good catch when they acquired husky George Babcock from the camp of Canadian Junior Champion Toronto Marlboros last month."

"But the real 'catch' was in

the "pitch" Babcock threw. To get Babcock, the Nats also had to take his school chum and hockey-playing partner from (Lindsay, Bill Horton).

"Horton, an eighteen year old defenceman played four games. He picked up an assist in the Nats home game against St. Thomas and spent seventeen minutes in the penalty box. He left the team last week."

"Babcock, 17 year old right winger who scored four goals and collected three assists in the four games, left over the weekend to join Horton in Lindsay."

George Babcock

Nats in the hole. They were about to strike out Saturday the last day to sign out-of-town players taking up residence in London — when they landed Rick Eaton, 18, of Ganarong."

Miller goes on at some length describing the new recruits. He says that "enraptured" Sir Adam Beck Secondary school yesterday" then quotes team manager Art Larson as follows: "We haven't given up completely on Babcock."

"We're going to have another talk with him in an attempt to get him back, but it doesn't look good."

Speaking with both Bill Horton and George Babcock since their return "The Post" learned that the boys soon learned that they were the ones having a "curve" thrown at them and they deserve credit for making the decision to return home. According to both players five nights a week were taken up with either hockey games

Honour roll read at UCW meeting

Fingerboard (PNS) — The Bazaar and supper at Pianos Point was a huge success and proceeds were very gratifying. The UCW November meeting was held at the church on Saturday afternoon with lunch (twenty-two present for lunch in the church kitchen after the meeting.

The President occupied the chair and brought the meeting to order with a poem and a hymn. The convenors for the next part of the meeting then took over. Mrs. Nicholls was asked to give the Bible reading after which Mrs. L. Gilson gave the topic, the theme of which was "Armistice Day."

She called on the President to read the names on the Honour Roll after which she gave a summation of the day and its meaning. A short program of readings and musical selections was followed by the minutes of the last meeting; roll call and Treasurer's report. A discussion then followed concerning the layette sale. The meeting closed with a thought for the day and Miss Beth Benediction. Lunch was served by Mrs. L. Gilson and Mrs. G. Moast.

Poet's Corner

— ARMISTICE DAY —

Armistice Day of all the year,
 Is the time to thank our God.
 For mother's sons who gave their blood—
 That flower over Flanders sod.

Gave thanks 2000 friends, for lands of peace,
 Allied in the years before;
 And little children safe from harm—
 Protected on every shore.

Remember well, the day of days,
 When the wounded and dying braves—
 Sang "Pass on Earth" in dirges,
 "Our sons shall never be slaves."

Remember too with kindly heaves,
 Unseen who struggle now,
 With crippled limbs and brains impaired—
 That cruel war, may be no more.

Long odds — a gallant fight

Everyone who has ever watched men of the local fire department put up a game fight against long odds knows that firemen have guts. But not everyone knows that the fire fighters of Canada — forty thousand of them — put up one of their most gallant battles against odds that are not just long but almost overwhelming.
 The battle is the battle against childhood's cruellest disease, a progressive wasting of the muscles: muscular dystrophy.

An estimated twenty thousand Canadians have muscular dystrophy. There is no cure for it. There is no way to prevent it. There is no treatment for it.

There is just one hope: a moral breakthrough. So for ten years new Canadian fire fighters have pledged themselves to raise funds to finance research. The first year they helped — 1954 — they were responsible for every cent of the $15,000 raised in Canada.
 Since then they have raised a million dollars of the nearly two million so far made available by The Muscular Dystrophy Association of Canada to doctors and men of science.

And this month they launch
 their steepest assault.
 Starting November 8 the firefighters will be out in force across the land to assist in the Muscular Dystrophy Association's annual drive for research funds. They will be ringing door bells, selling tags, setting up coin collection boxes, making speeches, passing the hat.
 They will be appealing to their fellow Canadians to match

their generosity, and their own

de-lighting spirit.

For they are pledged,
 through the Canadian Association of Fire Chiefs and the International Association of Fire Fighters, to stay in the battle till the end, no matter how long it takes.

When a cure for muscular dystrophy is found, part of the credit will certainly belong to the firemen of Canada, who have guts — and heart to match.

REMEMBRANCE DAY —

NOVEMBER 11

On this anniversary our thoughts turn to the wars of the past years in which we have fought, always with the basic hope of peace. Hunger, disease and misery have been borne a driving force behind wars — now, through the United Nations agencies, we are supplying food, medical aid and education to the least favored people of the world, to help them achieve peace and prosperity.

AHL experiments in scoring averages

In an American Hockey League Service Bureau release of Nov. 10, publicity director Jack Butten reports on an experiment in the AHL to obtain more accuracy in arriving at a goalkeepers' averages.

At the present time in most organized hockey, when these averages are figured, the number of goals allowed by the averages are figured, the number of games in which he has appeared.

Minutes played instead of games would be the basis of the experimental system. The number of minutes played by a goalie first will be divided by 60 (the number of minutes in a regulation game) and the resultant figure will be used instead of the number of games played.

In the past time played in over-time was not allowed for the experimental system. The actual number of minutes played in an overtime period were credited to the goalie's record and incorporated in the averages. If a goalie allowed two goals in a nine minute overtime game under the old system his average per game would be 2. Under the new system his 19 minutes would be divided by 60 giving a figure of .315 which divided into the 2 goals would give him an average of 1.74 goals against per game which is actually played.

'Dental Health' topic for H&S

Canington (PNS) — The October meeting of the Canington Home and School Association was held in the Public School room with Vice-President Mrs. Dale Miller in the chair.

The meeting opened with the singing of "O Canada" with Mrs. Edwards at the piano. The minutes were read by two executive members and the roll call for pennants was taken. A treasurer's report was given by Mrs. Edwards.

A piano solo by Miss Sandra Buttersworth was enjoyed. Mrs. Ted Maize Kindergarten convener, reported that twenty-one children had registered for this term. Mrs. Dobie asked if anyone had dolls or toys they were not using and said they would be placed in the kindergarten.

The rummage sale and candy table was held on October 25th in the school.

The guest speaker for the evening was Dr. Mark Johnson who took for his topic "Dental Health for our children" which was very interesting.

The meeting closed with the Queen and tea was served.

WOMAN TO WOMAN

New York — (UPI) — It's nothing in the nation's number one garment centre, and one of the new fashion collections are shown. The joint is jumping with knee joints.

Short skirts and the mannequins and buyers wearing high hemlines are the reason. There are plump knees, skinny knees, knobby knees, baggy knees, knock-knees and some knock-out knees. But no matter what the type, all are on display.

The women apparently have given up those efforts of a season or so ago, as the skirts go shorter, to tug the hemline down after sitting. Now, if the knees show, so be it. Only a drastic drop in hemline length can change the scene, and they aren't dropping. On the contrary, they're going higher for daytime.

Some of the designers' theme eliminates two inches above the knees in their spring collections. Now they're previewed for the nation's store purchasers and the press has dropped them a smidge from fall's predominantly mid-knee-length.

The knee show is just one of the "trends" behind the scenes as the ready-to-wear industry unveils what women will be wearing in the Easter parade.

What the buyers wear reflects what the American woman currently is wearing.

What the models wear often farfetched things to come in fashion.

For instance, if the models could catch on, the American woman soon will be wearing hair short as some of the Flapper cuts of the 1920's. French hair, curls (except for evening) are out.

The models predominantly prefer the short bob, rarely falling below the ear tips, parted low on one side and brushed across the forehead to conceal partially the brow.

Hair is perfectly straight. To show evening clothes, however, they occasionally add a false hairpiece for a high-pled result.

Too cool, or at least regarded as the background in numbers, are blonde models. An unofficial count gives the brunettes a five to one edge.

Sill in with the models is heavy eye makeup, the false lashes, plus heavy shadow and eye liner. In still the pale lips and pale-pale faces.

In too, is a new way of walking for a few of the models. A few — notably one at the Maurice Rent Show — stood straight and stride as if they were free-swinging along a country lane. Still with us also is the pot-dog model. As designer-manufacturer Oleg Cassini commented at his show — "I'd like not to smile."

Other trends in with the showroom habits:

PATRICIA MCCORMACK

The three-sarad of pearls falling halfway to the wrist, replacing the shorter necklaces. The jangle of charm bracelets.

The outsize handbag, although the giants seem to have shrunk since last season.

Coming in, the textured and patterned stockings instead of the sea-through sheer.

Our with the showercap instead of hats, seen less frequently than bared heads.

The basic black costume. Showrooms blaze with bright colours and some persons, with unlimited money for cleaning bills, dare the white and off-white coats and suits.

The term "Discotheque" dress, the sheer little black frocks that the industry newly promoted last spring for dancing in the night spots featuring music by record.

Called CAB, GOT COP Santa Monica, Calif., (UPI) — A silver-haired robbery suspect who refused to identify himself to police was captured early yesterday when he called a cab but got a cop.

Alerted by a suspicious taxi cab dispatcher, police Capt. Ed. Ricks and Officers Roy White and Curtis Frank caught the suspect shortly after he held up a J. C. Penney Co. Store and stole a pair of pants to make his getaway.

Lindsay was well represented at the annual meeting of District 3 of the Ontario Cancer Society held a few days ago at Port Hope when Mr. Cameron MacKenzie of Beaverton, succeeded former Mayor Mrs. Allen Hoff of Peterboro as President.

Over two hundred delegates were in attendance, including members from the counties of Victoria and Haliburton, Ontario and Northumberland, Ontario. Peterboro, North Hastings and Renfrew. The workshop was organized to delve into matters along various lines of endeavour and the convention proved to be one of great interest.

MacKenzie, chairman of Victoria and Haliburton; Norman Ryckman, Campaign Manager for Lindsay; Mrs. Lorne Jordan, treasurer; Mrs. Kenneth Griffin, representing the women's committee in Lindsay; Mrs. Robert Martin and others.

The anniversary will also commemorate the 75th year of the erection of the present beautiful church on Russell Street. St. Paul's edifice is one of the most beautiful churches architecturally to be found in Ontario.

History records that it was in 1838 that the first Anglican mission, the Church of England started divine worship in the town of Lindsay. This Parish Hickey, as a missionary from Penelon Falls. Soon after, in 1839, the first resident minister, Rev. John Vicas, took charge and a church was built near where the old post office was located on Kent St. This was used for twenty-five years.

The present church was erected in 1862 when the Rev. Canon Martin arrived in 1867 and was actively engaged in his first year's work. During his first year, the church was built and in 1905, joining it with the present church. It was later enlarged and heightened as the March Memorial Hall.

The Rectory was built in 1914. The former residence of the Rector was for many years on Victoria Avenue, north of Colbourne Street.

Among the many tradesmen who worked on the erection of, the present church was the late George Coombs.

History also records that at one time the Anglican Church not only had crown lands located to the property on Kent Street for years occupied by the post office, but also to the present day has crown rights in land occupied by stores on Kent St. operated by Boxes and Cost Lindsay Cleaners, Simpson-Sears, Pulvers, Lethell, the Smiley Shop and Lindsay and Mirror. The Church also controls a strip of land stretching from Kent to Russell Street to the west of the new Dominion store.

Former Rectors and Curates of St. Paul's include Rev. Canon Marsh, Rev. Golding, Rev. Bickle, Rev. MacConnachie, Rev. Ross and more recently Rev. Canon Heltz.

Tribute

Mr Winston Churchill is unique. It was in 1940 when Victoria was still Queen that Winnie strove through the bloodiest years of the bloodiest of Commons for the first time. Sixty-four years later he led the stage from where he had played his many great parts.

This man of action who led his country and the Commonwealth from the early war years through the bloodiest of Commons for the first time. Sixty-four years later he led the stage from where he had played his many great parts.

Mr Winston Churchill, except perhaps his own stirring speeches that will echo through history.

He was 90 years old. If we may paraphrase one of his famous utterances: "Never has one person done so much, for so many, for so long."

Belt Mandatory

Seat belts are mandatory for all privately-owned vehicles of RCAP personnel. The regulations also require that all port on private motor car accidents from the Air Division Headquarters in West Vancouver.

Mr. J. H. Marshall D. A. Bradshaw, air officer commanding 1 Air Division, said: "The air division has made seat belt use mandatory for all personnel registered under the air force licensing system." He believed an automatic seat belt would be a great improvement to reduce the toll of traffic injuries and deaths.

The report stated that in a study of 160 accidents involving vehicles equipped with seat belts, only 20% of drivers had their belts fastened at the time of the accident.

The torch is falling

There is further evidence of the ineptful failure of democracy. The House of Commons recently defeated a motion to commemorate the 25th anniversary of the end of the Second World War. The motion was to call for an official day of holidays for government servants and for workers who come under the jurisdiction of the federal government.

For government servants this would mean another special day. In addition government servants get three weeks' holidays after a brief period in employment and enough sick leave for resignation from all the life known to man or woman.

This is not to say that all government servants are lazy and refuse to do any more work than they must. There is a core of competent, efficient conscientious government employees who would be willing to work for their frontier differences peacefully.

Cannot boycott

Mr. Serates Khuma, who is expected to become the first Prime Minister of Bechuanaland when the territory holds its first general election, believes that it would be national suicide to boycott South Africa.

In London, England, he told CNA's Sunday Express that he is opposed to South Africa's racial policy. "But South Africa is there and we must live with it," he said. "It is not for us to decide whether we should boycott South Africa. It has nothing to do with us. For us it would be national suicide."

"A trade relationship doesn't mean you approve of the government you do business with," he said. "The Americans send grain to Russia and Britain sells buses to Cuba."

Mr. Khuma said that Prime Minister Bechuanaland, Chibwe, has voiced similar views in Germiston, South Africa, recently. Echoing Khuma's views, he said that he is not in South Africa, Chief Jonathan said:

"Those who say after Independence that Bechuanaland will have close relations with South Africa and that the whites will be driven out, are enemies of the people of Bechuanaland."

Committing on South African "political" footing in Bechuanaland, he said: "We are not against granting asylum to persecuted political refugees but we can no longer allow asylum to Communists who go to Bechuanaland under the cloak of political refugees."

"It is through this kind of reference that Bechuanaland is today under the control of Communist agents who eat your money, eat them wisely, and elect men who will govern in the interests of your country," he told the Bechuanaland Press.

Queen may arbitrate

London (UPI)—A decision of Argentina and Chile to submit their Andean frontier dispute to Queen Elizabeth's arbitration was welcomed in diplomatic circles here both because it marks a first step toward settling the dispute and also because it shows the British interest in the area.

It was not still known here when Britain would assume active role in the dispute. It is in a position to accept the arbitration under the terms of the "Triangular Treaty of 1862, but action will not be taken until the dispute is settled by the Queen.

Officials said that the government here was considering the terms of the Argentine-Chilean agreement reached in Santiago late last year. The agreement called for the legal technicalities involved. Meanwhile they had no comment on the Queen's plans.

In informal diplomatic circles, however, the Santiago accord was seen as a major step forward towards breaking the impasse that has troubled the British sphere of the arbitration role.

The problem for the British previously was that only Chile had approached the Queen to arbitrate the dispute. In a dispute affecting about 100,000 acres (80,000 hectares) of territory in south Andean mountains.

Chile has been received directly from Argentina, but the British Embassy has submitted a full report on the dispute to the Queen. The Queen was understood to have clarified the Argentine position.

Diplomatic quarters here considered the Argentine Chilean deal could bring twofold benefits both to Britain and to the Queen.

They said that for the British Sovereign (who will act through an agent in group of experts) to be asked to arbitrate between two major Latin American countries was a great help for Britain's prestige in the area.

It was also seen as a great step towards settling the dispute between Argentina and Chile. The Queen's arbitration role was seen as a great step towards settling the dispute between Argentina and Chile.

With Britain helping to settle differences between Argentina and Chile, it would be seen that it still had an important role to play on the world scene. It was seen as a great step towards settling the dispute between Argentina and Chile.

One it was a decisive influence. In this, it could help Britain at a moment when it is trying to build up its trade share there.

There was also relief in diplomatic quarters that Argentina and Chile appear to be willing to work for their frontier differences peacefully.

Tally Ho!

The hunting horn is echoing round the hills and dales of Britain as 40,000 flocks of this sport spring into the autumn sky. It is a long-awaited hunting season which continues until next April.

Between November 1 and April, some 13,000 flocks will be killed as packs of hounds get their noses to the scent. It may cost anything between £100 to £200 a year (80 dollars to $246 dollars) to take part actively in hunting. In addition there are some 200,000 more for the less active hunters.

Those who believe that hunting is a cruel and a sadistic sport consider it the most humane way of keeping down marauding crows—will also be out in force. Among the salubrious activities they adopt is the feeling of raw meat to the hounds (it slows them down) or chemicals thrown down to down the scent.

But it is hardly likely they will make much impression on the massive hunt, which dates back to the 17th century. The hunt is a tradition of the British aristocracy. John Peel, who might almost be described as the father of the hunt, is a member of the hunt.

The passing of the corners

It is an indisputable fact that there are more accidents at "intersections" than elsewhere on the highway. The reason is, of course, the intersection, and the personality that corners used to have.

Children went to be places to stop. There was likely to be a church. At the corner store you could get a better catch up on the new news.

Corners had names. Nowadays it is difficult to describe a village to a visitor there to turn to get the summer cottage.

If the traveller on a super-highway put on his brakes, it is a village there to signal a turn. He comes to a screaming stop and then speeds on his way. To nowhere.

REMEMBERANCE DAY 1964

An address written by
by Roy MacLennan, Legion padre
Captain C. G. Bowles.

TEXT: Righteousness exalts! dimen' Are we righteous as a nation but sin is a reproach to us. Or are we worshipping a false god? EXPOSITION: I have jeffersoned our own and our country's and our country's moral values for the sake of a few dollars. I know that we are told that our government depends on the revenue from the sale of alcoholic beverages. We forget that even now we pay out over five dollars in stand with the progressions, retrogressions and fluctuations of humanity. Thirdly because it is still the world's best seller. And fourthly because it is a book that has influenced the world more than any other mark for democracy, decency and righteousness on this old world.

Daniel Webster said: "If there is anything in my story or thoughts to be commended, it is the fact that I have seen my parents in installing into my mind an early love for the Scriptures." George Germaine, when Vice-President of the U.S.A. said: "If I were to have my way, I would have the torch out of the hand of the state of Liberty and in its stead, place a open Bible."

True, have we our Vets, our Internals, Hazards and our Russells but give me the men who DID something for the world because of a living faith in the old Book... the Bible. It has been truly said: "England made Shakespeare but the Bible made England".

What am I trying to say? The Bible and the Word of God are the moral teaching of Scripture the natural man may smile at and others may sneer at but the Bible is the most important man may read; but all history there was taught us nothing. Have we not learned as well as the best of godless oppression crushing, bruising and breaking that only RIGHTIOUSNESS has the wit to believe that YES! exalts a nation. And remember-Sin is a reproach to us.

It is true that TEMPARY people! Not just to the people who pray it. If you and I tolerate evil in our community and never rise our voice against it we become a silent partner in its practice and continuance.

Righteousness is costly! But it is a better quality man in the world. It is always initially expensive, but cheaper in the long run. The nation that pays a high price for decency reaps a large dividend as certainly as day follows night. This is only God's inevitable law found upon one of His innumerable decrees.

What any man can take for he must eventually yield to one stronger than he. What any man can gain at the moment of one's life he must surely surrender to him who has two. And when we, as individuals or as a nation, build upon a rotten foundation we must expect ultimately the collapse of what we have built thereupon.

Rome founded her internal economy upon the institution of slavery and her foreign policy was one of ruthless conquest. These twin evils brought about the complete collapse of Rome, for depending upon their slaves, Romans forged the dignity of labor and lost the techniques of production. Their great military might was then nothing in the end except the hatred and vengeance of all whom they oppressed. The Slaves revolted and under Spartacus and fierce war saw the end of those who had delighted in its practices.

I think Napoleon summed up the thinking of godless men throughout the centuries when he said "God is always on the side of the heaviest battalion." This is absolutely wrong. It is "righteousness" that exalts a nation. Not power and might; I believe it was Sir Galahad who said: "My strength is the strength of love because my heart is pure."

Lindsay man fined $25, costs for attempted theft of gas

Leonard Richardson, 18, of Ronald Graham said he found the Lindsay area was fined $25 and costs for attempted theft of gas. The accused was charged with the theft of gasoline on Oct 24 from a truck parked at the Lindsay. Cook Company lot at 11:45 p.m. The defence claimed that the evidence was only circumstantial. Lindsay Police Constable

SKIDDED ON WET PAVEMENT, STRUCK TWO CARS—FINED

"I would not ask for a license over the brow of the hill," said the driver of the car who saw a car ahead with the brake lights on. He said he applied his brakes and his car skidded along the wet pavement until it struck the Thompsons car and apparently caused the north-bound car to crash.

The conviction arose from an accident on Lindsay Street South, on Friday night, October 24, when a car driven by a fire-rat and windstorm had swept the town.

Mrs. Lyla Thompson told the court that she was driving South on Lindsay Street in the vicinity of Mary Street when she noticed a vehicle following at a car-length behind. Wishing to make a right turn into a driveway approximately 200 feet down the street, Mrs. Thompson said she applied her turn signal and her brake lights to give the car following ample warning. She said as she turned into the driveway, her car was bumped from behind and when she glanced back at her car there were two cars stopped in the roadway.

The judge, Police Constable John Henley said that during investigation he found the Thompsons car in the driveway at 185 Lindsay Street South. He said a second car that had been northbound was parked partly on the highway and the east shoulder with approximately $350 damage to the front end, and a third car admittedly overtaken and driven by the accused, which had been southbound, facing in a north-bound direction in the middle of the road. The Constable said it appeared from marks on the cars and debris on the roadway, that the Quibell car had glanced off the Thompsons car and struck the north-bound car almost head-on. He said that due to the wet condition of the pavement, no skid marks were evident.

George Quibell told the court that he was proceeding south on Lindsay Street and when he noticed a car ahead with the brake lights on, he applied his brakes and his car skidded along the wet pavement until it struck the Thompsons car and apparently caused the north-bound car to crash.

noticed a car ahead with the brake lights on, he applied his brakes and his car skidded along the wet pavement until it struck the Thompsons car and apparently caused the north-bound car to crash.

The conviction arose from an accident on Lindsay Street South, on Friday night, October 24, when a car driven by a fire-rat and windstorm had swept the town.

Mrs. Lyla Thompson told the court that she was driving South on Lindsay Street in the vicinity of Mary Street when she noticed a vehicle following at a car-length behind. Wishing to make a right turn into a driveway approximately 200 feet down the street, Mrs. Thompson said she applied her turn signal and her brake lights to give the car following ample warning. She said as she turned into the driveway, her car was bumped from behind and when she glanced back at her car there were two cars stopped in the roadway.

The judge, Police Constable John Henley said that during investigation he found the Thompsons car in the driveway at 185 Lindsay Street South. He said a second car that had been northbound was parked partly on the highway and the east shoulder with approximately $350 damage to the front end, and a third car admittedly overtaken and driven by the accused, which had been southbound, facing in a north-bound direction in the middle of the road. The Constable said it appeared from marks on the cars and debris on the roadway, that the Quibell car had glanced off the Thompsons car and struck the north-bound car almost head-on. He said that due to the wet condition of the pavement, no skid marks were evident.

George Quibell told the court that he was proceeding south on Lindsay Street and when he

Legionaires parade for Sunday service

Sunday morning, members of the Sir Sam Hughes branch of the Royal Canadian Legion held one of the largest pre-Armistice Day church parades in its history. Sunday weather was ideal; the services of the church were presented by St. Paul's Anglican church, led by bishops.

The front pews of the church were filled with members of the local branch. President T. Madril read the scripture lessons and John Cole, a lay reader also read one of the lessons. The sermon which was brief but well thought out and well delivered was presented by the Rector, Rev. David Lemmon.

The choir sang special music and the anthem soloist was Mrs. H. Watson. The entire service was appropriate in recognition of Remembrance Day and the observance of two world wars with marked respect being given those who lost their lives in defending their King and country, resulting in freedom for mankind.

LOCATING CAUSE OF CHRONIC TIREDNESS

I recently told of a woman and published her letter in which she complained of sheer exhaustion. I suggested, among other things, that she try to overcome excessive tension in her environment. What she needed, I said, was a complete investigation by a competent doctor to discover the cause.

Although nervous tension is one of the commonest causes of stress there are many other organic causes. For example, consider the following letter. I have received numerous other letters which mention the disease to which the letter re-already had one. This woman sounds exactly as I was for years; completely exhausted and I ached almost constantly, especially in my eyes. I was given every test known, except the right one and told it was "nervous" or "emotional." Finally a very brilliant doctor found the real cause. Myasthenia Gravis. I now take Mestinon and feel like a new person. All my symptoms of tiredness are gone except that I occasionally have no tip and down. I would say I am 90 per cent better.

I was wanted to pass the information along in hopes of helping this exhausted woman.

Dear Dr. Steinbock: I am very much interested in helping this poor woman who has written to you about her exhaustion. I wish that you would not regard this letter as unimportant on the theory that I couldn't possibly know what I am talking about since I am not a doctor. While I know that you can't make a diagnosis through a newspaper, please mention to this woman that she have a test for Myasthenia Gravis. If she has no-ally will be discovered. Therefore, I hope that tired readers won't jump to the conclusion that Myasthenia is what they have.

Nevertheless, as I've said, the good doctor considers all possibilities in making his diagnosis. We do not know exactly what causes the muscle weakness of this disease but once diagnosed, there are two drugs which will relieve it. Lately there have been reports that removing the thymus gland improves many patients who suffer from Myasthenia Gravis.

Dear Dr. Steinbock: My husband and I have a disagreement. We'd like you to please settle. Our daughter is overweight. My husband says if she goes to bed at 8 p.m. and get up 9 hours later she'd lose immediately. I say it's all in the diet. Please answer. Mrs. C.

Comment: I don't like to get into the middle of family differences of opinion, but this one doesn't sound too serious. Let's just say that this time you're on your own, I understand. Although sleep is important, I the main source of her surplusing.

Dear Dr. Steinbock: I read the other day of a 56-year-old man dying of leukemia. Is that possible? I thought it was a fatal illness only suffered by children. Mrs. A.

Comment: It can occur at any age. However, there are various types of leukemia, depending upon the kinds of blood cells involved. And the length of survival time is related to the character of these abnormal blood elements. For example, in children, "granulocytic leukemia" makes for a nover normal. In adults, the immediate prognosis outlook is relatively bad for all cell types.

Leukemia is no respecter of ages and continues to be a universal threat. Sometimes soon if more investigators can overcome this enemy of mankind. (Released by the Bell Syndicate Inc.)

Street Displays

It is not clear why town council members became concerned about merchant's displays in front of stores encroaching on town property. Recently the town clerk was instructed to approach the Lindsay Chamber of Commerce regarding the matter and ask their views on whether a by-law should be passed prohibiting such displays.

Why do council have to take such a negative approach in these matters? It is obvious to anyone that few stores in town abuse the privilege of displaying their wares on the sidewalk, and if a few have been using rather more than they should, a word from the mayor to the merchant would probably right the situation.

We suggest those responsible for propagating the by-law spend less time in trying to restrict the merchant's business growth in the downtown area and more time in trying to promote downtown business development for Lindsay.

Another Day

The latest and intense passion that is observable in the current discussion of a Canadian flag was illustrated a long time ago in the matter of the union of the Methodist, Congregational and a portion of the Presbyterian Church.

In a downtown office the two opponents did not have much to do. Bob was wont to come in and occupy Dan's eight o'clock chair. One afternoon, eight or nine years after Parliament had disposed of the question of church union, Bob suddenly burst out with a statement that he'd be blackly-blinded if he's let anyone take his Church away from him.

By a coincidence there was further information from the lady who had taught Bob in public school. She also was a continuing Presbyterian. But the fact of Bob's continuance in religion was that he had not willingly, not even once, been in church since he was nine years old, when he was expelled from Sunday school for misbehavior.

How was caused by dictatorship Club had was caused by dictatorship. The probability that the present war is a direct result of the competition between the dictators of the world, was the view expressed by Fred S. Gardiner, Reeve of Forest Hill Village, at the meeting of the Rotary Club in the Hotel Empress today.

"If Germany successfully terminates this war, do you think Russia and Japan will be satisfied?" queried Mr. Gardiner. "The competition between the dictatorial countries will ruin the world."

Mr. Gardiner traced the causes leading up to the present war and expressed the opinion that the Russian Revolution in 1917 with the resultant establishment of a dictatorship, followed later by the Fascist and Nazi dictatorships in Italy and Germany, were the indirect causes of the present conflict.

Town Team Wins

Interest in soccer football was revived in Lindsay on Saturday, November 11, when the football team played by Lindsay Cricket Club sponsored its first game. In a friendly match against a picked team from the 46th Battery stationed at the Armouries, Lindsay, the town team went up a good deal. At half time the score stood Lindsay Town 2, 46th Battery 2.

Resuming against the wind, the town pressed steadily and were rewarded with two more goals. Down two goals the soldiers tried hard to reduce the deficit. Francis Jones, playing with a nice shot which hit the crossbar. Seven minutes before full time the soldiers moved. For then it was a close battle, the play being surprisingly good. The soldiers forced several corners, which proved fruitless. The superior combination of the town players then took the half offside, and when time was called were pressing the soldiers in their own half. At the final whistle the town team was still leading and emerged victorious by a score of 4 to 3.

Prince Charles set on a Naval career

LONDON (UPI) — Sturdy, mop-haired Prince Charles, heir to the British throne, turns 16 Saturday with his eyes apparently firmly set upon a naval career.

He has yet to be formally invested as Prince of Wales which will come in a solemn and colorful ceremony in ancient Caernarvon Castle in North Wales. This could be scheduled for the coming year but most observers think Queen Elizabeth will wait until her son has turned 17.

The prince will be away from home for his birthday, spending his usual Saturday at sports and hobby pursuits, the regular routine at Gordonstoun, his school in Scotland. There he will be the traditional British cadet sent from Buckingham Palace, and probably telephone talks with the Queen and other members of the family. Otherwise it will be a pretty normal school day.

According to reports from the school Charles is proving an apt and serious student. He recently passed the important "C" Examination (General Certificate of Education) which is a university-entrance test. No official announcement of his showing was made, but reports were that Charles had excellent marks in all his major subjects including English, History, mathematics (reputedly his weakest subject), Geography and French. In these he attained "O" level (above average) marks.

According to present plans, so far as is known, the prince will remain at Gordonstoun, the non-sensuous school for his father Prince Philip also attended, for another year or so. He then would "sit" for the Admiralty interview given all prospective cadets and in which they must prove to have the intelligence, initiative and sense of responsibility required of naval officers.

From now on, Charles' studies will include special subjects aimed at preparing him for entry into the Britannia Royal Naval College at Dartmouth, which he can enter at age 17-18. Charles' investiture as Prince of Wales is expected to come before his matriculation at Dartmouth, possibly in the spring of 1936.

At 16, the prince gives every appearance of being a strong, healthy, normal teen-ager. The discreet blanket that covers the activities of an heir to the throne has not, it should be noted, shielded him from the public eye. He has with several girls.

He shares with most British youngsters at his age, however, a keen interest in pop-music—including the Liverpool beat of the Beatles and similar groups. He himself has learned to play an electric guitar and it's said he can beat out a pretty fair tune. His birthday presents probably will be held at his home where he joins the Royal family at Windsor Castle for Christmas, with record tokens—allowing him to choose his own discs—almost certainly among his gifts.

HOW CAN I P.P.T.?
By Anne Ashley
Q. How can I clean a common-brick fireplace that is badly soiled by smoke?

A. Ordinary household ammonia is usually very effective in mild washing-powder solution will remove accumulated dirt and dust. Wash off with clear water. If the brick work is old and porous, it will of course absorb considerable water and will take quite a bit of time for drying.
Q. Is there anything I can do when a coated-brick rain-coat cracks or wears thin in spots?

A. You can keep it waterproof a little longer by applying a coat of automobile top dressing to the bad spots—the clear type of dressing.
Q. Do you have any tips on the removal of spots from saturated in covered furniture?
A. A light sponging with benzine will often do the trick.

If your diamond is to sparkle it must be kept scrupulously clean so that the light striking at every facet breaks down in-mold to tiny and gummy up with soap, you might as well be wearing glass. A diamond that is worn every day needs special cleaning at least once a month.

Mixing Batter

Lumps of flour in mixing batter can be prevented by adding the salt to the flour before mixing. By pouring four into the liquid, instead of liquid into the flour, and beating it with a fork, lumps will not form.

Posture discussed at 4-H meeting

WOMEN'S VIEW

By Gay Pauley

New York (UPI) — This is to have been handed down through the ages. Friday in the Christian Church, for instance represents the day of Crucifixion. And the unlucky notation of the number 13 is based on "very ancient ideas of the peculiar charm of the number 13." says Encyclopaedia Britannica.

The New York Public Library's reference department says the supposed hex characterized of 13 also may have some of its origin in the feast of the gods at Valhalla of the Norse legends. At the feast, an unexpectedly broken wine cup means seven years of bad luck.

Superstitions I am and are millions. And there's no use for those who claim not to be influenced by omens and numbers to try talking us out of so being. There is no such thing as a superstition-free life.

In no one industry will you find more superstitions than in the fashion world. I know milliners who cringe at the sight of someone putting a hat on a couch—prophesying an outgrowth of the hat on the bed.

Montaigne commented that "superstition allows pride and obeys its king." To Voltaire, "superstitions are, more than ourselves the kings of nations." And in his fables, John Gay wrote that "The salt is split, to me it fell. Then to contribute to my loss. My knife and fork were laid cross."

"On Friday too! The day I dread."

Bazaar donations from UCW members

Cameron (PNU) — The Women's Union of the Cameron Unit of the Cameron Unit of the C.W.M. met in the church basement with 13 members present.

The leader Mrs. Anne Douglass opened the meeting. The devotion was conducted by Mrs. Alberta Mark and the Scripture was read by Mrs. Helen Henry. Roll call was Sandra Wray concluded the meeting by stocking stuffers evening.

Tuned radio, crashed car-fined $25

Turning his attention momentarily to a car radio on the seat of his car, Earl Howard Thomas $25 and costs Thursday when convicted on a charge of careless driving in Lindsay Police court. The accused said that he was proceeding west on county road No. 19 just east of county road No. 9 and failed to see a curve in the road in time to negotiate the curve safely.

Provincial Constable James Dodd told the court of finding the car belonging to the arrested upside down on the travelled portion of the road on Sunday evening October 18th about 9:30 p.m. He said he found marks indicating that the car had left the road and entered the bank and rolled onto its top.

Magistrate Murray ruled that it was a clear case of inattention. "It was caused by inattention," he said himself, and he was fortunate no one was injured" said the magistrate in registering a conviction.

GIRL FRIEND KILLED IN ACCIDENT HALIBURTON YOUTH FINED $300

William Oliver Hanthorne, 20, of Haliburton was fined $200 and costs in Magistrate Court Tuesday for three months in jail after he was found guilty of driving dangerously after being involved in an accident in which his girlfriend, Virginia Laura Williams, 16, of Toronto, was killed on October 10. In addition, he was prohibited from driving for a period of three years.

"I don't think you are a bad or vicious man, but you have shown a lack of judgement," Magistrate Ian Munro told the youth when passing the sentence. Haliburton OPP Constable Donald Lloyd said his investigation of the accident showed Hanthorne's car left the road at the start of an "S" turn off Highway 121, at the Allaw Flat, about 10 p.m. He said the car travelled 639 feet before it stopped because of a 26-foot culvert and snapping off a road sign and a telephone pole before coming to rest.

James Chappell of Toronto said he was going to Haliburton with a boat and trailer behind his car when Hanthorne's car went past him at about 50 or 85 miles per hour. Chappell said the Hanthorne vehicle passed another car in front of him and the next thing he knew, the car in front of him started to brake rapidly. Mr. Chappell said he pulled sharply to the left to avoid a rear-end collision and said he saw the Hanthorne car stopped at the cross the road ahead. He said when he got to the Hanthorne vehicle, the windshield was out and the car was lying on its side of the road. Mr. Chappell told the court he sent a passenger to get assistance.

The accused told the court he had passed the Chappell vehicle and was partly past the other car when he saw lights coming up over the brow of a hill ahead of him. He said he pushed the accelerator to the floor and went to swing in front of the other car. The sudden movement made the girl's head hit his right arm and turned the wheel into the ditch.

Magistrate Ian Munro said the fact that Chappell admitted he was going 50 miles per hour himself and was amazed when the Hanthorne vehicle appeared at his left to pass him showed that Hanthorne was driving dangerously fast.

The magistrate added "the fact that Chappell pulled to the left to avoid hitting the third car says that there was no oncoming car or there would have been a collision".

Mr. Hanthorne was fined an additional $50 and costs or 15 days, consecutively, for not showing proof of insurance.

EDITORIAL

So worthy...so dull

Canadians are not taking an interest in Canada's Centennial, Peter Ayrault, Director of Special Projects for the Canadian Centennial Commission has charged.

"Most people are more or less blasé about the whole thing," he complained when he addressed the Electric Club of Toronto.

"Further," he added, "there is a kind of attitude abroad that makes Canadians pool-pool about the whole idea and actually express a not-too-veiled contempt for the feeling that it will be a 'big flop'."

We cannot help feeling a little sympathetic towards those Canadians that are admittedly blasé about the whole thing. After all, who can really get excited about new fire halls, new police stations, new municipal buildings and the like which seem to be the choice of most municipalities when it comes to deciding on how to spend the money. Further, Lindsay's growth is coming mostly from the "Acadians" and it is certainly hard to get excited over after the campaign to save the Acadians a controversy, success in itself. Some critics might think the Canadian "railroaded" the centennial grant.

It is hard to find the centennial project as yet announced that amounts to a hill of beans as far as celebrating this birthday of Confederation. New theatres, new libraries and memorials...so worthy, yet so dull — to wonder people are blasé.

To mark the magnificence of the citizens we need something new, something spectacular. The centenary should be the biggest, most colourful birthday party the country has ever known, for 1967 is worth celebrating, it is worth celebrating well.

We are sure Canadians can come up with more more inspired commemorative programmes than at present proposed—perhaps stirring military tactics, touring the country with soldiers in dress of 1967...large scale programmes of youth exchanges from coast to coast, a children's centenary party as complex as Disneyland...Olympic sized swimming pools and sports tracks...and perhaps even the world's biggest blueberry pie. Many of the present municipal neglects lack imagination — let us do something new to mark the Centenary of Confederation.

Interference
Those men who destroy a beautiful landscape of body and mind by interference and an irregular life, do as manifestly injure themselves, as those who haze, or poison, or drown themselves.—Shellock

Denver
A defective cabinet can send dangerous fumes into the car, especially during bad weather when the car windows are likely to be closed. With at least one window open a few inches, carbon monoxide fumes will not be so likely to accumulate with fatal results. Be sure to have the car thoroughly checked before a long trip and before the cold weather sets in.

Magistrate reserves judgement

—goes to case of crash

Magistrate E. A. Geer reserved judgement in the case of Howard Kellard, Toronto mechanic, charged here Friday with reckless driving.

The charge was laid by provincial police following an accident on Highway No. 35, four miles north of Lindsay, on October 22. Kellard's car was involved in a crash with one driven by Max Consky of Penelon Falls.

Evidence in the case was very conflicting with both the prosecution and defence alleging that the "other car was over on the wrong side of the road. Two gowens in the road at the scene of the accident played a prominent part in the case, as did a black dog mark. Following the testimony of several defence witnesses, Magistrate Geer, in company with the Crown Attorney, Traffic Officer, accused and defence counsel, visited the scene of the accident on the Penelon Road.

Attorney-General addresses businessmen
Ontario's war effort would not involve curtailment of the necessary social services, pension system and hospitalization, but the Government would be more circumspect in understanding less vital expenditures, Attorney-General Gordon Conant said at Port Perry last night.

Speaking at a complimentary banquet tendered him by the Port Perry Business Men's Association, the Attorney-General said that many public works were desirable and even necessary in ordinary times and under ordinary conditions. But it would be "criminal folly," he asserted, to undertake such works if by so doing the war efforts were to be impaired. The future of the Port Perry-Peterborough Highway and all other works not directly dependent on the war and what may be required for its successful prosecution, he said.

Fingers injured

Tuesday evening P. J. Carver met with a painful accident at the box factory. His left hand was accidentally caught in a sash, the fourth finger being taken off and a couple of others bruised. Frank hurried to Dr. McCallin's residence, where his injuries were attended to. While suffering the serious loss of a digit, the injuries to his other fingers are not so serious as reports had it this morning.

Origin of fire suspicious.

Last night at eleven o'clock, the brigade was called to a fire of suspicious origin on William Street North, where a barn belonging to William Bain was discovered to be on fire. When the brigade arrived on the scene, the blaze had gained considerable headway. A line of hose, 1200 feet in length was laid from the corner of Eglin and William Street, but Fire Chief Dill decided not to turn on the water, as the stable was doomed.

An investigation showed that the blaze had started in the northwestern corner and there were footmarks leading from the barn, that looked suspicious. Besides the building a number of cords of wood and some 20 hens were destroyed.

There was no insurance on the barn. German base destroyed

A despatch from Rotterdam says during a heavy bombardment by the English fleet yesterday off Knock and Zeebrugge on the Belgian coast, the base for German military trains on the Brussels Canal was destroyed. Much damage was done to the German stores and supplies.

No dum-dum's by Britain

The War Office last night issued a statement denying German allegations that the British troops have used dum-dum or soft-pointed bullets, but maintaining that these kinds of missiles have been used by the Germans.

GOOD TIP
After retiring from work it is a good idea to cultivate the idea that you have poor health, without doing anything about it. If you believe you are sick, see your doctor or attend the local health clinic for a check up. It is easy to worry oneself sick but the doctor is the only authority to consult about your ailments, your diet and your general way of life. (A4126)

Mr. Charles R. McInnes, our thanks for your co-operation 1982-1984. Fenelon Falls Business Friends.

Good wishes for a happy retirement were wished by all present.

This picture of The Wharf at Lindsay is believed to have been taken around 1905 to 1910. The large ship shown is the "Esturion" the flagship and Royal Mail steamer of the Trent Valley Navigation Company which carried out a double trip from Pleasant Point, Sturgeon Point and Sandy Point to Bobcaygeon daily. The smaller vessel is "The Manita" which ran from Lindsay to Fenelon Park and Cobocook daily. The coaches in the foreground were operated by James Workman. The R. M. Spall Leather Company's tannery can be seen in the background. The white sailing barge was replaced by the present bascule bridge. The boat "Oreman" met the "Esturion" at Bobcaygeon to take passengers on to Chemung Park, near Peterboro and Buckhorn and Burleigh Falls.

World news today

Ottawa — Debate on a new flag is expected to be taken up in the Commons again tomorrow as soon as approval is given second reading of the Canadian Pension Plan.

House Leader George McPhail told the Commons last night the Government will move into the flag debate rather than continue with what is considered Legislation with high priority by the opposition.

The move brought expressions of surprise from Conservative House Leader Gordon Churchill.

The move could rock parliament back into the deadlock which existed earlier this session.

Neither Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson, who had predicted the new single Maple Leaf flag would be adopted by Christmas, nor opposition Leader John Diefenbaker, who wants a National Patriotic flag, have shown any inclination of accepting a further compromise.

Although at this stage, Mr. P.'s can only speak once on the resolution, it is possible for a prolonged filibuster to continue the flag debate up to Christmas.

Hamilton Falls — A preliminary report on the Hamilton Falls power project says power can be transmitted to the New England States by way of the Atlantic Provinces as cheaply or better than by way of Quebec.

The report overcomes a stumbling block caused when Quebec refused to cede the rights.

Quebec — The possibility of Canada continuing as a Sovereign Nation in the light of its weakness to the U.S. has been questioned by a Quebec Law Professor. Andrew Patry expressed his doubts at the fourth annual Canadian Affairs Congress at Laval University.

Ottawa — The Opposition is expected to continue its de-facto government over alleged connections between five Liberal M.P.'s from Montreal and the Secretary's International Union today.

Liberal spokesmen say the government has not been able to find any evidence supporting the charges.

Belgium — An explosion ripped a Belgian Printing factory early today in Brussels killing at least two persons. First reports said two others are feared dead and 30 more were injured or seriously burned and hospitalized. Fire brigades are battling the blaze, which threatens to set off more explosions.

U.S.A. — Informed U.S. sources say President Lyndon B. Johnson is expected to reaffirm the hardline U.S. position demanding Soviet payment of its U.N. peacekeeping assessments. The U.S. has indicated that if the Soviets do not pay, it will move to deprive the Russians of their vote in the General Assembly.

Italy — The Bizarre case of the kidnapped man in the trunk continues to baffles Italian police today.

Police found a Moroccan stuffed in a trunk at a Roma airport yesterday. The special police unit was sent to Cairo and it was escorted by two Egyptian Diplomats.

U.S.A. When policeman Bob Hicks answered a burglar alarm at a San Antonio Department store he was surprised to be welcomed by a youth.

The young man identified himself as an examiner testing the response to the burglar alarm. He asked the policeman to estimate how long it took for him to get to the store.

Hicks wasn't fooled. He jailed the "examiner" for burglary.

THE ORIOLES NEST

High up in the top of the old elm tree,
Away from earth's dangers, one plainly can see;
Hang a little, wool nest, so soft and so warm,
Aye, it swings from the twigs, so safe from all harm.

And out on a limb, just in sight of the nest,
Sir Oriole whistles, with almost a zest—
And seldom he stops, but he warbles his song;
From dawn until twilight, gives tune to the throng.

The lady bird places her eggs, with great care,
In that tiny wool nest, so neat and so rare;
Then soon her wee birds, in the shells go pip, pip;
As the limbs of the tree, in the breeze, dip, dip.

Sir Oriole's plumage seems brighter to grow,
As proudly on black wing, he flits to and fro;
When his fledglings attempt, to warble his notes;
As he rolls them out on the air, so his floats.

Now the parent birds feed their family with care—
And soon, very soon, they'll take to the air;
In the Autumn breeze, rocks a vacant wool nest.
Mac.

UNDER THE PEACE TOWER

Ottawa (UPI) — Members of parliament last week were slipping furiously into a down-town office to catch a glimpse of the contents of drawers that hold a list of names to come in their future.

The drawers don't contain crystal balls but have progressed to what may happen to the makeup of Canada's electoral districts following redistribution.

The results are startling. But now that the redistribution bill has progressed through parliament, the room has been closed off even to MPs while commissions from each of the 10 provinces go over the electoral map.

The doors likely won't be opened to them for at least two years. It's estimated that it will take about two months to appoint the commissions.

Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson said that he may lose the 17 votes he has to travel 25 miles out of his way to take it.

"We'll be affected," said Knowles. "I may even lose my commission."

The new organization and staff with a new electoral map will not likely be ready for an election until 1968.

The re-drawing of the map is based on population figures gathered in the 1961 census. There have been two elections since then based on the 1951 census.

Two others—Eric Nielsen (P.C.) and Eugene Rheaume (P.C.)—said that they would hold for them in 1968.

On a purely personal basis, Nielsen said that he would like to see the map changed.

For example, Kill-Sin Pimblee-Faithful Jones, House-Ford member, said that he would like to see the map changed.

There are at least 11 good reasons for insuring your car, home, or business through a man who displays this symbol.

you will get these benefits if you buy insurance directly from some companies!

An independent agent represents several insurance companies; therefore he's able to do the following:

- 1 He selects the right policies for you — from a wide variety of possibilities.
- 2 He gives you impartial advice, as can a salesman be impartial?
- 3 He helps you with claim details when you have a loss. You don't deal with a company adjuster alone.
- 4 He represents companies not of their fast, fair payment of claims.
- 5 He gives continuous, personal service.
- 6 He represents only strong, reliable companies.

HOLLYWOOD

(By United Press International)

Hollywood, (UPI) — Lucille Ball co-starred with a bear on her television show Monday night, once more putting her life on the block.

Lacy's midcap, physical style of comedy is tough enough on her CBS-TV series when she's performing with human beings. Such antics with animals make for a dangerous situation.

It's always difficult working with a semi-stunt actor. But at least he doesn't bite. Miss Ball is a veteran of shows involving animals, has the scars to prove it. During the years, Lacy has worked with monkeys, dogs, hares, alligators, camels and elephants.

Each animal, in its own way, has left its mark on Lacy. Some stepped on her feet, some bit, others showed.

Sitting in her dressing room at one of three studios she books, Lacy recalled some of the painful incidents of her career.

"I worked with animals as if they're human beings," said Miss Ball.

Miss Ball once worked with a massive great Dane, the dog who stole many of the scenes from actors in "The Hound of the Baskervilles" movie.

"We were making a domestic comedy and I had the dog with me for a week because I had to eat from the same dish as he did in the picture," recalled Lacy, showing to what length she'd go.

For one scene in the picture, Lacy was supposed to jump into a lake. She did, and quickly began to sink in the mud of the lake bed.

"I couldn't get up," she said. "The suction was holding me down. I finally got to the surface and started yelling for help. That was my last, 'help!' but I really meant it."

"That dog went sailing into the water, hit me on the head and down I went again. He almost drowned me, but he meant well."

His memory was the elephant. His memory might be short but Lacy's isn't. She'll never forget him.

"I was sitting on the elephant!" she said. "I slipped his trunk up over his head and gave a trunkful of dirt and stuck into my face a good amount of the day in a doctor's office having stuff taken out of my face."

Then there was the time she rode a horse at the circus. The horse trotted during rehearsal.

Full-scale model passenger car on show in partially completed Metro in Montreal. Various platform designs under consideration are also displayed.

Canada Builds First Silent Subway Montreal's Muted Metro at Midway Mark

As new Montreal skyscrapers rise one after the other to vie for a place in the sun, a marching feet of engineering is making place deep down in the solid bedrock upon which they stand. Montreal's underground railway, now with half its tunnelling completed, is scheduled for preliminary operation in 1966 and completion in Canada's centennial year of '67. Outstanding feature of the Montreal Metro, which will be the most modern subway system in the world, will be the huge monocoiled wheels of the subway cars, providing passengers with a quiet, smooth, rapid, safe and-steps and the ability to take deeper grades than conventional grading metal wheels. For now, the work of hard-rock tunnelling, concreting, and station building proceeds apace in Canada's largest city deep to find the world's first complete system of underground travel using the quiet luxury of rubber-wheeled transit.

Part of 16-mile-long Metro, above, is already lined with smooth concrete. Most of the system—70 per cent—is through rock. Begun in 1963, full operation date is 1967.

Mechanical shafts had trucks with spind from the $180,000,000 project will provide Montrealeers with a smooth, comparatively silent system of transportation.

Engineers at Canadian Vickers look over lines of 700 rubber-wheeled bogies upon which 160 passenger cars will ride. Cars also have horizontal rubber guide wheels.

Construction engineers discuss tunnelling operations at Montreal's Metro plans the halfway mark.

Drinkwater-Kennedy Nuptials

Mr. and Mrs. Blake Drinkwater

White gladioli and mums length gown of silk faille. The decorated St. Paul's Anglican Church for the wedding of Cheryl Elhel Joy Kennedy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kennedy, Lindsay, to Blake Edwin Drinkwater, son of Mrs. Claude Midland Drinkwater of Bobcaygeon on October 3, 1964 at 3:00 p.m.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. David Lemon, and the bride's brother, Paul Kennedy, sang the "Wedding Prayer" accompanied by Henry Moss of Lindsay as organist.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, in a full length gown of silk faille. The dress featured a portrait neckline encircled with appliques of lace and ivory and embroidered with silver beads, an empire line bodice flowed softly into a slim skirt with a chapel train. The bride wore a tulle and lace waist by a tailored bow. Her hair was styled in a pearl tiara holding a waist length veil of dove net with scattered lace border and pearl droplets from the tiara on the forehead. She carried a bouquet of red roses and white lily-of-the-valleys.

The maid-of-honour was Myrna Kennedy, a sister of the bride, of Lindsay. The bridesmaids were Theresa Drinkwater, sister-in-law of the groom, Helen Robertson, a cousin of the bride both of Lindsay and a friend of the bride from Uxbridge Barbara Quinn. The flower girl was Jan Kennedy, a sister of the bride. The attendants were identical cousins in street length candy-colored pink silk organza.

Rover Scouts on way out in Lindsay?

District Scout Commissioner, John Joyce of Omnesee, and Assistant District Commissioner Harold James, of Lindsay observed a continuing class in Rovering at the Quinte Regional conference in Port Hope Saturday.

The branch of the Boy Scout movement called Rovers had nearly died out in Lindsay. One scoutmaster attributed the lull back to Rover Scouting to a lack of leadership. He said a leader of this important section of the movement should have some knowledge and understanding of boys about 18 years old and have a fundamental knowledge of the aim of the Rover section of scouting.

The District Commissioner did not indicate what steps would be taken to re-organize a Rover Crew in Lindsay but he said he was concerned with the problem.

Eleven district scouts attended the conference which offered courses, lectures and discussions for cub-scouters, scoutmasters, rover-couters, group committee and index auxiliaries. Some of the specialized classes in the afternoon session included pack holidays and cub camps, handicrafts, cub pack problems, scoutmaster water camping, adventure camping and scout troop problems.

The Northeast Corner

by "the observer"

Among the beautiful pictures
That hang on memory's wall
Is one of a dim old forest
That seemeth best of all:
Not for its gilded oak alone
Dark with the mistletoe;
Nor for the violets golden
That sprinkle the vale below;
Nor for the milk-white lilies
That lean from the fragrant hedge,
Coquetting all day with the sunbeams,
And stealing their golden edge;
Nor for the vines on the upland
Where the bright red berries rest;
Nor the pines, nor the pale, sweet cowslip,
It seemeth to me the best

This is the first verse of the little poem written by Alice Cary, who was born near Cincinnati in 1820. Here she is trying to portray the beauty and the majesty of this grand old forest that is so vividly painted on her mind.

The forest was near her home and it was the habit of her and her sister who were four years older than she, to go through the trees. This can be one of the most pleasing and memorable experiences that anyone can have and the pictures we create can remain with us through our life. It may be the chattering of the squirrels, the rustle of the leaves, the sound of the water, the sight of the trees, or it may be a cotton-tail as we dash through the forest. John Whitaker, the author of the poem, has captured many of these pictures by his beautiful simple poem "The Barefoot Boy."

It was once a barefoot boy
O'er his head he wore a hat
And by his turned-up pantaloons
And by his merry whistled tunes
With his red lips, rodder still
Kissed by strawberries on the hill
With the sunshine on his face
Through his torn brit's jaunty grace
From my heart I give thee joy —
"I was once a barefoot boy!"

O'er his head he wore a hat

if you are responsible for an automobile accident
after your insurance policy has lapsed?

You do!

When you allow your insurance policy to lapse you immediately become an uninsured motor vehicle owner. Before you drive, you must either pay the $20 uninsured motor vehicle fee to a Department of Transport licence agency or to renew your insurance, or you will be liable to a fine of up to $500.

The $20 fee gives you NO protection whatever. If there is a claim against you as an uninsured motor vehicle owner for which you are liable, it will be paid by the Motor Vehicle Accident Claims Fund, but you must repay the fund. You will not be allowed to own or operate a motor vehicle until you make arrangements to do so. Judgments up to $25,000 are not uncommon. A debt of this size could seriously hamper your family's future. Protect your future. The wisest course is to buy automobile liability insurance and keep it in force. Always carry your insurance card in your automobile.

Meanwhile, it's the opinion, and question to hand.

No. 1: It is my opinion, and I think the belief of many other physicians experienced in treating coronary attacks, that the chair
treatment should not be the usual one. In other words physician's part. If you have a chair within hours of an attack, it seems that the conservative management of crisis may be dangerous. However, if you don't get the ad-

ful. However, the decision must be made with all this in mind.

DADDY "KNEW IT ALL" AND DIED AT AGE 46

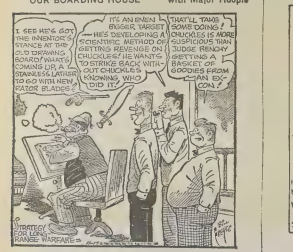

Not for the purpose of preaching a sermon or being maudlin do I reprint the following letter. However, I do think there's a moral you can easily read between the lines.

Dear Dr. Steinocher: When top talk, at a recent visit to read your column last night, the doctor it was discovered I could not help thinking of my own father. He too, was a brain specialist, the operation weight, a heavy smoker and had high blood pressure. His family too, had a long history of coronary trouble.

But my dad didn't believe in all of it we decided against going to doctors. He used to not, but at the suggestion of a checkup and said he'd live till savings. I don't know who was taking "herbs" and felt in top condition.

On Valentine's Day he had a heart attack in his sleep. His first heart attack, but he never woke up that day. He was only 46. Now my 8-year-old sister still must grow up without the care of a father. And when my general, another sister walked down the aisle on her wedding day, she a decision. Nevertheless, here would have been on his arm, it is in a general way, I can't agree. If it all because our daddy were I, and my mind was clear "knew it all". Now he's gone I'd ask the doctor to operate on the spot. We everybody what would you do?—Mrs. C. Comment: I can't give advice. I don't know the must grow up without the care of a father. And when my general, another sister walked down the aisle on her wedding day, she a decision. TIPS FOR A TYRAN SQUIRREL HUNTER

EARLY MORN

Dear Dr. Steinocher: I could not help but laugh at the "old lady" in the rocking chair who does not believe in exercise. I am past 60, and enjoy life to the fullest. In fact, I square dance at least three to four times a week. One meets the nicest people. We never discuss age. We just laugh and enjoy ourselves. It's the best form of exercise and fun. I hope the good lady gets out of her rocking chair long enough to watch us some night. Perhaps we could pump some young thoughts into her mind.—Mrs. D.

As we like it — or lump it

Man, said the bard, has seven ages. The taxpayer comes to at least that many milestones on his way through life. Some of them he never leaves behind him. He just keeps paying.

First, he qualifies as a charge on the treasury when he's born.

Second, as soon as he gets a allowance to spend, he's a charge without knowing it. And he might as well face the fact that these hidden taxes are going to be with him throughout a lifetime.

Third, he gets a job. He ceases to be a beneficiary through the family allowance but he starts paying unemployment insurance and is introduced to taxation at the source.

Fourth, when said he takes a wife he begins to gather expenses. If he is naive he may think that the government is giving him something.

Fifth, he buys a house or pays rent. That's when he makes the discovery that real estate taxes always go up and never down.

Sixth, he begins to see a glimmer of hope when the government recognizes his 65th birthday by tapering his tax rates slightly.

Seventh, he reaches the final goal, an old-age pension, beginning at 70 years. This is not to be confused with government largesse since the where-with-all to pay pensions comes from him and other taxpayers like him. Taxes will also enter into his dying. That's one time he doesn't have to worry about them.

Facing Doubt

"It is a fallacy to suppose that the world is neatly divided into 'believers' and 'unbelievers', that 'we', church people, belong to the first group; 'they', the outsiders, to the second. The truth is that some of us can insulate ourselves from the atmosphere of contemporary thought. And unless we are all prepared to share the perplexities with real sympathy we are depriving ourselves of one of the most valuable bridges of communication with those who at present do not share our faith."

—St. Rev. P. A. Cockin,
former Bishop of Bristol.

46th Battery training
Members of the 46th Field Battery who were experiencing actual manoeuvres in the field, it was learned this morning. Plans are now under way to establish training grounds at the east gate at the north-west end of town, where emplacements will be built for the guns. Up to now, the gunners have received purely theoretical training in the practical side of artillery work.

Artillery used against youths
It was reported today in a dispatch from Zagreb, Yugoslavia, that German troops had been forced to fire artillery weapons in quarters to subdue last week's Czech uprising at Prague, and that attempts had been made Friday to assassinate Dr. Benj. Hladik, president of the Bohemia-Moravia pro-temorate.

Although the German had announced the execution of 15 ringleaders of the uprising, the dispatch said Nazi police and storm troopers killed or wounded 200 students who were storming the Czech university, and that after they captured it, they lined 18 students against prison walls and shot them. Twelve of the bodies were reported as lying on the ground as a warning.

Warn against air rifles

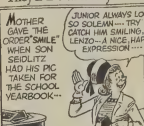

An account of complaints received by rate-payers who have had windows broken. Chief Constable R. H. Lawler, writing an account by a young man, Lindsay citizen and today issued the warning that it is strictly against the law for anyone under 14 years of age to possess a rifle or air-gun. The Chief seized the gun yesterday, of a market-man who was walking contentedly along taking pot-shots at anything that struck his fancy.

They'll Do It Every Time

Buffalo Bargains
Live buffalo from three national wildlife refuges in the United States were unusual 'surplus sale' bargain which Leonard Parks, one of the BBC's staff in Washington, commented on in a recent BBC broadcast. The appeal of the advertisement was, of course, not so much to pet lovers as to those with a hearty appetite for buffalo meat.

"At their peak," said Parks, "probably because of the discovery of America, the great buffalo herds contained an estimated 70,000,000 animals. One authority says that even Africa has never produced a wild-game animal in such numbers." By 1900 there were less than 300 buffaloes on the whole continent in their wild state, but people were developing captive herds in Texas and Montana. "Nowadays the only large herd on this continent is in Canada where there is one of about 16,000 in 11,000,000 acres of land. In the United States protected ranges their numbers go down from about 500 over the Wichita range to as few as twenty on a range in North Dakota. But there are enough buffaloes to ensure their healthy preservation and even provide a surplus sale."

Martyrdom

It is the cause and not the death that makes the martyr—Napoleon.

Moan Legends From Turkey

Speaking in a recent BBC 'Woman's Hour' broadcast about poetry, music and legend inspired by the moon, British astronomer Patrick Moore recalled two unusual fables from Turkey. According to their story-tellers, he said, in ancient times the sun used to shine by night and the moon by day. "But the sun was a girl and was afraid of the dark, so after a while she persuaded the boy-moon to change places with her. This is why the sun now shines during the daytime when there is a brilliant light over the earth, leaving the moon to the mysteries of the starlit night."

"According to another Turkish legend the moon was a child who used to follow his mother everywhere, even when she was busy at her household tasks. One day the moon went out following her while she was trying to wash some dishes, and at last she became so angry that she threw the dishcloth at him, leaving his face with the dark patches that we can still see there."

No Easy Way

"Generally it is prudent to disregard the blandishments of people who suggest easy methods of gardening. Most by there aren't any easy methods. It means steady and hard work."

—Tyler-Whittle in a BBC talk.

Numerous accidents follow Lindsay area snow storm

The sudden appearance of snow and ice in the Lindsay area contributed to a number of minor automobile accidents Thursday said Lindsay OPP. An Onenome woman, Marion A. Skopron, was arrested in Peterboro Civic Hospital after her car rolled on Highway 7, three miles east of Onenome at 7:00 p.m. Thursday causing 1300 damage.

Civic Hospital authorities said she is in satisfactory condition with an injury to her right shoulder and chest injury.

At 1:20 p.m. a car driven by Lawrence George Long, 19, of Woodville, and went into the ditch striking an on-coming truck and causing a hydro pole.

No injuries resulted. Two cars collided during a heavy snowfall at 5:30 p.m. on Highway 7, causing $900 damage. Lindsay OPP said a car driven by Donald Blakely of Lindsay was involved in a head-on collision on Highway 7 when it went off the north edge of the pavement and fishtailed. KING-SIZED WORM
Baton Rouge, La. (UPI) — Louisiana State University claims its zoology department is harboring the largest earthworm in captivity.

The 14-inch worm extracted from the ground two weeks ago by a six-year-old boy, is getting VIP treatment in a special jar where he receives "journal" meals of decayed vegetation and cottonseed meal. The worm has gained 2.5 grams and still is growing, the university said.

FAILED TO GET HOSTAGE RELEASE, THOMPSON RETURNS

Ottawa (UPI) — A tired, haggard looking and disappointed Robert Thompson is back in Ottawa today after failing to negotiate the release of some 800 white hostages in the rebel-held Stanleyville area of the Congo.

The leader of the Social Credit party returned late yesterday from a government-paid three week trip to Africa and the hostages, including 38 Canadians, were still in rebel hands, unheard of from since mid-summer.

The papers showed little the next appeal to the Communist-backed rebels would be made by a council of 16 nations whose nationals are being held in rebel territory.

He said the council would meet today in Nairobi, Kenya, and representatives of Canada, Switzerland, Belgium, France and the United Kingdom would present a united front to the rebel leaders. They would propose to send a Red Cross team into the area "so the rebels don't run a muck".

Due to a re-organization of the Ontario Highway Patrol, a radio operator named German, a private in the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, the papers said.

The plan was to fly the three man team, including a radio operator named German, a private in the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, the papers said.

But nothing ever came of the scheme. Suddenly Hitler changed his mind and decided to postpone the venture. The time was mid-August 1941.

OIL AND MOISTURE. SKIN-CARE TIPS: A clear understanding in recent years of the causes of dry skin has led to enlightened treatment methods. Once thought due solely to a lack of oil, dryness is now known to stem from a lack of moisture. The real test on each other is the insuperable vein.

And all the skin products help to build moisture from inner and outer sources on the skin, moisture aids in the even distribution of oil. When in normal supply, the skin keeps the complexion soft and dewy.

Another contributor to dryness is an alkaline condition on the skin's surface or "mantle." The normal skin wears a slightly acidic mantle. Sensitive skin is alkaline and it is the result of dryness. For the skin, the alkaline-salt ratio will be the correct pH. For the skin, the alkaline-salt ratio will be the correct pH.

As a direct result of this thinking, skin-care products formulated with moisturizers and emollients have come into being. Their range now includes freshness and foundation, as well as a skin-making and softening preparation. There are even soaps that boast of the pH factor, and there are more to come.

The boon in such products is their power to safeguard the visible skin dryness — or flaking, tight lines and leathery texture. It's case where saving the surface saves all. Or almost!

Health, nerves and diet influence the skin from within. When it dries in a crisis, in spite of proper external care, the inner grain is in need of a check-up.

Rev. Searle eloquent speaker at church anniversary service

There was a noticeable and sincere upsurge of spiritual emotions at the 37th Anniversary services held in Wilson Street Baptist Church last Sunday. Large congregations gathered to listen to Rev. Gordon Searle, of St. Catharines, a former pastor at Wilson Street Baptist.

Rev. Searle was eloquent and inspiring as well as forceful in his two sermons at the service with the spiritual aspect of the Church in its religious outlook. He appealed for volunteers for the church and mission field and many men and women were visibly moved. The speaker took as his subject for the morning service, "Christendom and the Church," stressing that the world of today is in need of definite spiritual direction.

Rev. Searle pointed to the right discipline in making a plan for the morning service. He called for dedication, Rev. and Mrs. Searle have a daughter, Jan in the mission service in Ecuador. South America, and their elder son, Dr. Howard Searle with his wife and family are expected to leave for the missionary field of India.

The speaker told of the day when Howard, as a boy of thirteen, won an award as Lindsay's Toronto Star carrier by the year after increasing his route from 13 customers to well over one hundred. When asked by a representative of the newspaper as to his ambition for the future Howard said his desire was to become a medical missionary. His father along with a picture of the carrier boy with his bundle of papers was published at that time. That was in 1948. This summer after sixteen years of hard work and intensive study, Mr. Howard Searle graduated as a fully qualified surgeon in other Canada or United States. Following graduation Howard was offered the position of assistant to the head surgeon in a prominent Detroit Hospital at a remuneration of $50,000 per year. Dr. Searle, feeling that the Lord wanted his talents more than his money, turned down the offer and was accepted as a candidate for missionary service in India where he expects to take over a fully equipped hospital that would otherwise be closed down for lack of a qualified surgeon.

A number of young people answered the call of dedication when Rev. Searle gave the invitation at the morning and evening services.

HOLLYWOOD

(United Press International)

Hollywood (UPI) — Edmond O'Brien gambled on his career 15 years ago when he decided to break away from the traditional Hollywood system of long term contracts between actors and studios.

It was a gamble that paid rich dividends to O'Brien. Since he decided to become a freelance actor in 1949, Eddie was won an Academy Award, appeared in his own television series and is one of the movie's most respected performers.

"When I was a kid actor under contract I had no voice," he said. "Actually, I've held the reins since 1949, when I was considered unfashionable not to be owned by a studio. I cut the natal cord before most actors".

For years, Hollywood's studios had a strong hold on actors. The stars were bound to studios by seven year contracts, patents which gave studios a right to fire performers at the end of each year.

"I got tired of asking for good parts," Edmond said. "Anything that happened to me was despite the bosses, not because of them. I never became anything at it box office until I got out on my own".

O'Brien played a lawyer in the television series "Sam Benedict" a couple of years ago. Recently he played the part of a man who heads a drug addicts' rehabilitation home in the movie "Sydney".

In both of those roles, O'Brien was dealing with the character and personality of living human beings, not a make believe person dreamed up for a movie and television script.

"You should play the guy from the inside out, not the outside in," said O'Brien, explaining the job of an actor who portrays somebody who should be looking over his shoulder.

To illustrate what he means, O'Brien said actors sometimes ruin a real life character by a shallow portrayal of the person.

"Look at these pictures had on athletes," he said. "They're usually awful".

To escape the surface approach to a character, O'Brien goes "inside" the role.

"I try to find out how he thinks," he said. "How does he use his emotions. Finding out how a character thinks is playing a man from the inside out. Sometimes taking the physical posture of a character gives you an inner reality".

O'Brien's career is a mixture of activity, available dates and conflicting commitments. He is the Hollywood success that brings several offers for work at the same time, some of which he must turn down.

"There are three or four pictures I'm up for but I'll hit the first of the year," he said. "It's a matter of juggling dates".

And with all the dissecting of characters and the career planning O'Brien admits that, "All you can do in this business is play it by ear".

"There, now — the little during the alphabetical burning your house down."

UNDER THE PEACE TOWER

Ottawa (UPI) — Sitting in the Commons the other day Tsale Manner Mitchell Sharp, longtime civil servant and economist and cabinet minister for little over a year, leaned over to a colleague and remarked "Canada is a hell of a country to govern."

His colleague agreed, but restored my sense of perspective by asking me which country I would prefer to govern, recalled Sharp.

"I made a quick mental tally," continued Sharp, and he decided that despite Canada's difficulties with separatism and other things "I had no desire to switch countries."

To live in a country with "one of the great universal languages" of the western world "should be considered a great privilege and not hardship," Sharp added as if to emphasize his point.

His criticism of his own doubt.

We've all heard of the world's population explosion, but there are several other explosions, including one on sex, says Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson.

Pearson told a federal-parliamentary conference here we have the population sex explosion, the communication explosion, the explosion in science, technology, in politics even in sex, if we are to believe television.

Too much of any good thing makes it a bad thing.

NP's and other pillars of the Commons elevator eyed each other suspiciously the other day and claimed no one could resist the temptation to head his nose.

Prime Minister Harold Wilson of Britain will be in Ottawa only a few hours next month, but preparations go right down the elevator shaft, to linger there a number of days.

"As I've said, this job has its ups and downs mixed in one elevator shaft. Resisting the temptation to head his nose."

Prime Minister Pearson says two pictures are being ordered for the Commons chamber to replace the gallery of British Prime Ministers.

No one ever did get around to hanging Sir Alec Douglas-Home's picture there.

Maverick Liberal MP Ralph Cowan (Toronto-York North) who frequently took pot shots at policies of his own party took one at a caribou restaurant.

50 year jewel to Woodman of World

The Canadian Women of Woodman of World is celebrating its 50th anniversary. The World held another successful auction in the Moose Hall on Wednesday, November 14.

The prizes went to Woodman's first Mrs. Arnold and here we have the population sex explosion, the communication explosion, the explosion in science, technology, in politics even in sex, if we are to believe television.

After lunch was served by the ladies Morley Beckett thanked everyone for coming, he then asked Mr. C. Dayman has been a member of Woodman of World since 1907.

Francis Stokes called a meeting of the members and plans were made for a turkey dinner investigation revealed a great number of members and families.

There will be a Christmas tree to stand and he presented him with his fifty year jewel. Mr. Dayman has been a member of Woodman of World since 1907.

STUDENT TEACHERS

By Rick Witham
For the past week student teachers have been visiting this school. For some of them, it was their first teaching opportunity and they appear to be doing quite well. We hope the pupils will work earnestly and co-operate with the teachers.

The student teachers at Central Senior School during the week of November 16 to 20, were Miss Susan Bunnett, Miss Mary Lacey, Miss Judith Levat, Miss Glenda March, Miss Nancy Johnston and Miss Joan Sanddon.

CORRECTION

By Rick Witham
A story that appeared in the school column of the October 31 edition of "The Post", entitled "Hidden Love" was attributed to me. The story was written by Laurie Macdonald of Central Senior School.

By Carol Ellis
Monday night after school the volleyball games for the championship were played. The game between the Poplars and Pines was very exciting. All of the most exciting points the score was tied 12 to 13, but when the Poplars raced ahead letting the Pines gain only one point. The game ended with the final score of 21 to 16 in favor of the Poplars.

ELMS DEFEAT OAKS

By Carol Ellis
The second game started off with the Elms and Oaks working hard at getting points but as usual the Oaks raced ahead 12 to 9 making it look as though they would win, which they did. The final score was 21 to 11 for the Oaks. Next week the championship game will be played.

By Ron Johnston
Sports awards and trophies were presented to a number of students on Friday during an assembly at 9 a.m.

SANTA CLAUS IS COMING TO TOWN

By Leo Woodward
Yes, even though Lindsay has received little snow, at the time this was written, Santa Claus hasn't changed his decision of visiting the little children on Saturday. The adults may think it is rather early for Santa's visit, but youngsters, and those young at heart, are all excited over the coming event.

Many floats will be decorated in gay colours depicting the Christmas story and the life of Jesus. The floats will be taking part in this event and are expected.

One of the floats will be by the students of Central Senior School.

Dress in your warmest attire and be part of the large crowd watching Lindsay's Santa Claus Parade.

UNIFORMS FOR GIRLS OF CENTRAL

By Leo Woodward
Girls must face the fact they are following the same trend in dress as the boys—their call it "copying".

A few girls from Central Senior are dressing in smart costumes consisting of a navy blazer, skirt, knee-socks, white blouse and a boy's black vest. What more would a girl want; this is a very dignified uniform.

Some have now gone higher. Some in two-tone stripes and designs, travel over knee three to four inches.

What a shock to the fashion world!

YOUNG CANADA BOOK WEEK

By Barbara Johnston

The week of November 15 to November 22 is an important event in the world of books for Canada. Designated in 1971 as "Young Canada Book Week", it is sponsored each year by 33 national organizations. Today, 15 years later, the chief patron of Young Canada Book Week is John B. MacDonald, President of the University of British Columbia, who assures parents their children will receive better books to read.

Radio, television and comics, growing menaces to a child's reading, are not wholly deplored by MacDonald and other Young Canada Book Week sponsors. They admit that they have their advantages too, when kept in their place, but television viewing hours often greatly exceed those of reading and children are more eager to read of the "Pintstones" adventures than those of David Copperfield or Anne of Green Gables.

By means of extraordinary illustrations, the youngest child can explore Dr. Seuss's astonishing tales of fish, animals and humans yet to be seen by the naked eye. Later, he can progress to the fairy-tales or other children's classics and the reading of Dickens or for the boys, the stimulating choice of Stevenson and for the girls, traditional Montgomery is encouraged. The writings of modern authors are also eagerly sought after by the few who have discovered the magical world of books.

Not everyone is blessed with a neighbourhood library, but travelling book exchanges are popular with children at army outposts or mining or logging camps. Inhabitants of the barren north who have never held a printed page in their hands are welcome to consider us as possessors of the key to the world. True, the world's history, science, nature, and secrets are locked between the covers of books, but if we continue to live in the adventures

SIR WINSTON THE ARTIST. In a scene from the Hallmark Hall of Fame television special on the occasion of the statesman's 90th birthday, Monday, November 30, "The Other World of Winston Churchill" will be seen from 8:00 to 9:00 p.m. E.S.T. over the complete C-52-TV network and from 10:00 to 11:00 p.m. E.S.T. in colour over NBC Television. "Botticelli by Sir Winston is one of the amateur artists most famous paintings. It will be featured in the programme.

of Mickey Mouse, this golden opportunity is lost.

Parents have probably the most influence over children between the ages of four and ten, when the seeds which bloom into the love of books, displays, skits and free literature is available at public libraries across Canada. Many people may try to stimulate your interest in this subject but it is hoped you can say, "You're wasting your time with me. I read ten books a week; talk to George about it" and honestly mean it.

The most important place books have in your life is not to be overlooked. Many a heathen from darkest Africa have more of Canada than we do because he reads books and gleams a meagre amount of knowledge that adds up to a great deal. Young Canada Book Week is designed for you, benefit. Enjoy it!

NOVEMBER

By Barbara Johnston
A time for silent recollection. The graying dawn of winter, the mellow death of love. A time to remember, to muse o're tender memories. To answer, in heartfelt, autumn's plaintive call.

To join in the fluctuate walls of a lonely wind. Haunting the tower pines, mysteriously weaving pine's o're marshy pools a ripple with excited wavelets. Mirroring geese soaring to skies where hawks are silently hovering.

The strange tangled emotions stir your heart. To weep with the moaning wind or laugh with the forest gale.

All surge together to create a sympathetic love of November.

This month in which drier weather and thin frogs are without fail.

When the first snow blankets the countryside and smooth slopes are powdered. With an icy finger of frosty rain while. When ghostly convicts of trees reach out to whisper their tales of winter's night. Of November, then to the misty moon has escaped from the

NOT LUCKY

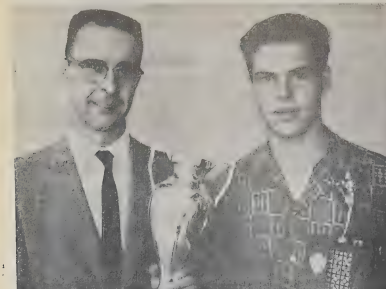

Colorado Springs, Colo. (UPI) — Justice of the Peace James J. Quinn was quick to dismiss three charges of assault and battery against the proprietor of a nursing home yesterday.

He took the action after a witness who made the accusation pointed out that the proprietor was a nursing assistant at a nearby table, and said, "That looks like her".

The woman was the witness.

A playette was presented by the group and a question and answer period followed.

STOP!... killing yourself

By Peter J. Steinhorn, MD., F.A.C.P.

ATTENTION: SOME DOCTORS SPECIALIZE IN DELIVERY FOR YOU. Fellow physicians, the following letter is addressed to you. As it is an open letter, I invite regular readers of the column to read it, too. Comments, medical or lay, should prove interesting.

Dear Dr. Steinhorn: Your column in this morning's paper was headlined, "Tired Mother Demands Tests." I know the "demands" wasn't your term, but it reminded me that I'd been wanting to write to you about this matter of "requesting" things from our physicians. You've often advised us to ask our doctor to make cardiac or thyroid checks, or whatever, as if this would be perfectly acceptable habit. Your own paper, Editor I live in the wrong part of the country. Or as a physician are not an exception proving the rule.

Because at our local, kind health emporium and in this area generally, people had better not "ask for" or even "suggest" and this goes double for a middle-aged, obese, chronically tired woman. Everybody knows such a person is a psychiatric case, not a medical one. I'm sure you'd waste her time and theirs with unnecessary tests? If Dr. Steinhorn, couldn't the mentions thyroid they look puzzled, blood sugar, they look muzzled, heart, they spot plitudes. If they ever do get around to performing tests, the results at ways seem to be "within the normal range." A range which, I'll wager, would accommodate several heads of buffalo. And I'll make further wage that a significant number of women who get sent to psychiatrists have nothing more complicated than simple hypochondria. As for me, I'm definitely middle-aged, but no longer tired and obese, thank goodness. Still, my mother and her brother and their mother all died of heart disease, and as I had a heart murmur after a severe illness.

JUST FOR THE RECORD
So the last time I followed your advice and had a "complete physical," I said, "How about an electrocardiogram just for the record?" And the nice young doctor spent the next 10 minutes explaining with great patience and kindness, all about hypertension and stress and so on. O.K. I'll probably never need an EKG, but I might have been interested. (Released by the Bell Syndicate Inc.)

Driving ability impaired, fined

David Matheson, 50, of Lakeside, was fined $75 and costs in Lindsay Police Court Thursday and had his driver's license suspended for six months when he was found guilty of impaired driving.

Magistrate Ian Munro told the accused, "It is a case of impairment. It is a very serious case of impairment."

The accused's counsel, M. J. Cunningham told the court he would enter a plea of guilty to the charge of being impaired but pleaded not guilty to the drunk driving charge lodged against Mr. Matheson.

The Crown proceeded with the drunk driving charge which was reduced, after testimony was heard, to one of ability impaired by alcohol.

Lyle Miner of Lindsay told the court he was proceeding south on Highway 55 at 5:45 p.m. on November 1 and as he approached the north end of Rosedale, a car coming from the east, crossed the road in front of him and went into the ditch. Mr. Miner said he had to apply his brakes to avoid collision.

Mr. Cunningham asked the witness, Mr. Miner, if he had any conversation as to why the accused pulled out in front of Mr. Miner.

The witness replied, "I didn't have to ask. I could see why he was drunk."

Mr. Cunningham then suggested to Mr. Miner, "After the accused went up the embankment, you accused him of being drunk, didn't you?"

Mr. Miner replied, emphatically, "I did not."

Lindsay OPP Corporal Gould said when he asked to see the accused's driver's license, the accused asked to see the police officer's first. He also told the officer someone put his car in the ditch but said he was alone.

Tiger-Cats picked to win
Toronto, (UPI) — The Hamilton Tiger-Cats will be playing in their fourth consecutive and seventh of eight Grey Cup final when they meet the British Columbia Lions Saturday at CNE stadium.

The only time the Cats have missed in the last eight was in 1960 when the Ottawa Rough Riders represented the east.

Hamilton has won two of the previous six Grey Cup games they have played in during the last seven years. They beat Winnipeg Blue Bombers 32-7 in 1957 and last year whipped the Lions 21-10.

All four of their losses came at the hands of the Bombers. Of 49 points carried over to Toronto, 34 picked the Tiger-Cats to win and 15 liked the Lions.

RESIGNATION OF FAVREAU DEMANDED

Opposition threats to cut Minister Guy Favreau's principle salary down to one dollar are expected to force the government to broaden the terms of the Royal Commission investigation into the scandal.

Connecting Liberal cabinet aides said an accused scandal-monger.

The House erupted yesterday in a series of demands for the resignation of Favreau.

Opposition leader J. W. Brown said he would not give Favreau a vote of confidence but would vote against him.

Conservative MP Terry Nugent said the current crisis was "a plain case of honest stupidity, honest bungling, honest incompetence."
